U.S., France To Talk Terms for Sending GIs Into Indochina

RALPH McGILL

Question Put to Three Citizens

MANCHESTER, England, May 14—Let's take these three. The first is Jack McDermont. He works in the famed Pilkington Glass Works of St. Helens, England, rival of our own great makers of plate glass. He makes the huge and, sometimes, small wooden frames which must protect the glass on long shipments to the many ports of the world.

On these trips you don't have too much time. It is necessary to say right off who you are and what you want. And so, I told him my name and said something like this:

"Jack, I am just passing through. And you can help me a lot if you realize that. And also, you can be of real benefit if you will tell me what you really think and don't mind hurting my feelings, if it comes to that."

I looked at him and he said, "All right, sir."

"What I want to ask is this—there is a lot of irritation on both sides of the Atlantic between the United States and Great Britain. Politicians on both sides talk critically of each other. It would be a great favor to me if you would tell me what you and your friends say about the United States when you are at home, just among yourselves, or when you are on a party with a lot of people and the subject comes up. I want to know what you really think and feel."

'We Like the U.S.'

"Well, sir," he said, "I can tell you in honesty we like the United States. Of course, there are some things we don't like. There are some of your men who don't act well. (He later explained he meant soldiers here with the Air Force.) But, honestly, there is no hatred or anger against the United States. We know we have got to stand together."

"Don't spare me," I said. "I want to know the worst."

"Honest, sir," he said, "we like your country. We really do."

I went on, after awhile, and saw the great plant which has been responsible for some of the best advances in glassmaking. They have taken some of our inventions, and the American glassmakers lease and pay royalties for some of Sir Harry Pilkington's innovations. There is no monopoly on brains.

The Pilkington works have been in business for 128 years and most of their workers are third and fourth generation. A few are fifth. The company turns out many forms of glass. It has two plate glass works. Each averages about 20 miles of plate glass a week, flowing out of the furnaces between rollers in a continuous sheet.

Textiles Worker

The second was Miss Alma McDonald, in the famed Tootall textile empire. I asked her the same question put to McDermont.

"Oh, no indeed," she said. "We know the United States is a good country. They helped us. We all stood together. There is no anti-American feeling among my friends. I know you hear about it. I am sure there is such feeling. But it comes from persons who are just mean or thoughtless or jealous. We don't feel that way—not my friends and me."

The third is Miss Irene Oakes, a really pretty young lady (as was the former), who was in the internationally famous pub called Tommy Ducks, in an alley in old Manchester. She and her boy friend were there for a bitter. She went to work in a printing plant at the age of 14. That was in 1947. She showed me her trade union card for identity. I asked her the question.

"Listen," she said, "we all speak out over here. You can hear anything. Sometimes I think that's wrong. But I guess it's a good thing. Still, what one man says is one man. My friends and my family know about America helping us in the war and after with loans. We don't pay any attention to talk the other way."

Those were three. I think they represent the average public opinion of the average English citizen. There are idiots on both sides of the Atlantic. But the fact remains that God, history and destiny have united the two peoples for better or for worse. If we do not hang together we hang separately.

The defense rests.

NEW JET TRANSPORT UNVEILED—SEATTLE, May 14—The nation's first big jet transport plane, a 95-ton, swept-wing "tanker-transport prototype," was rolled out of Boeing's plant today. In the 550-mile-an-hour class, it may be used to refuel jet bombers and, eventually, as a commercial airliner to carry 80 to 130 passengers. The big plane was christened by Mrs. William E. Boeing.

Reds Agree On Truce Guarantee

GENEVA, May 14 (AP) — Russia agreed today to the supervision by neutral nations and a guarantee by the big powers of any Indochina armistice worked out at the Far Eastern peace conference here.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, in restating the Soviet position and making some concessions, demanded the veto power in any international guarantee. Thus he sought to block any Western action without Soviet concurrence in case of an armistice breach.

GIVE-AND-TAKE

The give-and-take bargaining of the nine-nation Indochina peace conference began at its fourth session. First Molotov and then Foreign Minister George Bidault of France gave way slightly from their former positions.

Bidault insisted the need for international control and guarantee of an armistice was indispensable. But he added that he would be willing to listen to all proposals on how it should be done.

The French and Soviet proposals still were far apart in many respects.

MOLOTOV REFUSAL

Molotov refused to separate the issue of ending the fighting from the political problems of Indochina. He insisted that France would have to recognize the Communist "governments" of Laos and Cambodia, as well as the Red regime in Viet Nam, the third state of Indochina.

Bidault argued that Laos and

Weekend Due To Return May

More normal springlike weather will return to Atlanta and vicinity during the weekend, the weatherman said, issuing a forecast of clearing and warmer for Saturday and fair and even warmer for Sunday.

Temperatures Saturday are expected to range from 50 to 74. Sunday a climb to 80 is due after a morning low of 50. Thermometer here Friday ranged only four degrees—from 52 to 56.

Probers Challenge Ike On Silencing of Adams

By W. H. LAWRENCE
New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, May 14—Angry Democrats and Republicans challenged today the right of the Eisenhower administration to withhold from a Senate committee information about a high-level administration conference last January at which plans were laid for dealing with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) demanded an immediate showdown, but agreed reluctantly to a postponement over the weekend at the request of Joseph N. Welch, special counsel for the Army.

The issue arose when John G. Adams, regular counselor for the Army, refused, on instructions, to tell investigators any further details of the Jan. 21 meeting attended by top officials from the White House, Justice and Defense departments.

Adams earlier had testified that it was at this session that he first received instructions from President Eisenhower's chief of staff, Sherman Adams, to prepare a written report about pressures exerted on the Army by McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, to obtain preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine. That report set off the present row.

Existence of the "blackout" order was disclosed when Symington sought from Adams further details of the conversation at that

'FBI Letter' May Bring Court Action

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 15 (AP)—U. S. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said tonight there is a strong possibility of court action on the basis of evidence uncovered in the Army-McCarthy hearings.

McClellan, the ranking Democrat on the McCarthy subcommittee, said there is a "possibility of some court action at present" and that such action "may be probable at the conclusion of the hearings."

McClellan said the transcript of testimony regarding a letter involving restricted information that reached the hands of Sen. Joseph McCarthy might involve a "crime."

The transcript was turned over by the committee to the Justice Department upon McClellan's suggestion. The letter had been classified as restricted by the FBI and dealt with alleged security risks at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

The subcommittee cannot take any further action on the letter and the matter is entirely in the hands of the Justice Department, McClellan said.

McClellan, who flew here at the conclusion of today's testimony in Washington, also said he knows of no law that would prevent the committee from subpoenaing top White House aides to testify about the high level conference that resulted in Army charges against McCarthy.

Earlier, McClellan had demanded that the aides be subpoenaed to testify about the conference which had been disclosed by Army Counsellor John G. Adams if the law would permit such a step.

Ideals Win Over Rows, Ike Declares

President Opens Armed Forces Day

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower declared tonight that Americans know how much to value their freedom even if torn by doubts or diverted by "unworthy scenes even in our national capital."

The President made this apparent reference to the Army-McCarthy hearings during a brief off-the-cuff speech at a national Armed Forces Day dinner.

He devoted most of his remarks to reminiscences of his 43 years in the Army, but paid ardent tribute to the American way of life.

MUST NEVER FORGET

"We must never forget the strength of freedom," he said.

"We know how much we value freedom," the President said, "even if the country is at times torn by doubts and even if our attention is "diverted by unworthy scenes even in our national capital."

"We still know that we are Americans," Eisenhower said, asserting, "The heart of America is sound."

Eisenhower began his remarks before top congressional, military and government officials opening Armed Forces Day ceremonies by paying tribute to "an inspiring" address preceding his by acting Defense Secretary Robert B. Anderson.

INSTALLMENT PLAN

Anderson told the group Russia is bent on "conquest on the installment plan" whereby it can gobble up nations without inviting free world retaliation.

Eisenhower said Anderson detailed "the dangers we face."

Anderson warned that the free world "must forbid any further gains by Communist aggression "in any area" and must be prepared to use military force if necessary.

The President said that in the presence of "uncontrolled ruthlessness and unbridled ambition" the people of the democratic countries wonder if they can possibly hold their own under their democratic processes and seeming "weaknesses in administration."

In answer to that, Eisenhower said it is well to remember what

Stuart Hails Clear-Cut Call As State's Episcopal Bishop

NEW ORLEANS, May 14 (AP)—The Rev. Albert Rhett Stuart said today he believes he has a clear-cut call to become bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia.

The greying 48-year-old dean of Christ Church Cathedral in New Orleans said the heavy vote of both Episcopalian ministers and laymen in his favor convinced him that Georgia was the place for him to go. The Episcopalians unanimously chose him for their bishop last Wednesday on a second round of voting at Savannah to succeed the Rt. Rev. Middleton Barnwell, who is retiring.

The Rev. Mr. Stuart cautioned that his acceptance did not mean that he definitely will become head of the church diocese. First, his selection must be endorsed by Episcopal bishops over the United States.

If they approve, the presiding bishop in this country will arrange for his consecration.

He expressed deep concern over the responsibility that may be placed upon him in Georgia. More than likely he will enjoy the work in Georgia as he has in other places, like Greenwood, S. C., where he built a church.

Dean Stuart wanted to become a journalist, but changed his studies to biology and became interested in the origin of man. The more he studied the origin of man the more he became interested in the cause of it all, he said, pointing upward. His interest led him into the ministry.

HEIRESS BRIDE DIES AFTER SURGERY

PATINO HONEYMOON TRAGEDY

Runaway Heiress Dies After Brain Surgery

PARIS, May 14 (AP)—Isabel Patino Goldsmith, 18-year-old daughter of South American millionaire Antenor Patino, died tonight following an operation for a brain hemorrhage.

The dark-eyed beauty died between 6 and 7 p.m. (1 and 2 p.m. Atlanta time) in the Hartman Clinic of the American Hospital in suburban Neuilly, where five surgeons performed the brain operation earlier in the day.

The night superintendent at the American Hospital declined to give any details, other than to confirm the heiress' death.

Her husband, James Goldsmith, 21-year-old scion of a British hotel magnate, was at her side when she died.

Her runaway romance with young Goldsmith last January attracted international attention when her wealthy father objected to their marriage.

She was hurried to the clinic Thursday after suffering the brain hemorrhage while she and her husband were dining in one of his father's Paris hotels.

Informed sources said Mrs. Goldsmith was pregnant.

Following the operation, she had been reported in "satisfactory" condition but apparently took a turn for the worse.

Born Maria Isabella Patino, she and Goldsmith were married in the picturesque Scottish border village of Kelso last Jan. 7, just seven hours after her father withdrew a court injunction banning their union.

Police Trying To Nail Tire-Attacking Culprit

Roofing nails almost demobolized the entire fleet of Atlanta police cars Friday night.

The nails were found strewn across the entrance to the driveway of headquarters, on the lot where detective bureau cars are parked, across the driveway where Chief Herbert Jenkins' car is parked and on every other entrance driveway.

Trusty prisoners cleaned up the nails—each capable of puncturing a tire.

Seek Pledge From Other Free Nations

By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The United States has agreed to an urgent French appeal to discuss conditions under which this country might enter the critical Indochina War, informed sources said today.

The conditions, as stated by American officials, include joint participation by other free nations, assurance of independence to the Indochina states and the states' freely made request that this country intervene against the Communists.

The U.S. conditions also include formal agreement by Congress to enter into the jungle war—a step many members of Congress are reluctant to support.

EARLY START SEEN

The American-French talks on intervention will get under way "very soon," probably in Paris, informants said. U.S. Ambassador Douglas Dillon will represent the United States.

France asked for the conference after American conditions on possible U.S. intervention had been communicated formally to the French government.

The United States already is helping the French Union forces in Indochina with money, arms and technical assistance.

There was no immediate word here on the French government's new appeal for more U.S. planes to bolster Indochina's defenses, hard beset by rampaging Communist-led rebel forces.

EXCLUDES TROOPS

Diplomatic sources in Paris, who disclosed the new appeal for planes, said it did not call for intervention by American troops. A previous French request for direct intervention by U.S.-manned planes was turned down on the ground that approval of Congress would be required.

The administration has said repeatedly, however, it is willing to give the French all aid possible short of direct U.S. intervention.

July Draft Call Is Up to 23,000, A Boost of 5,000

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The Army raised its draft call by 5,000 today, calling for the induction of 23,000 men in July.

Inductions since January have been running at the steady rate of 18,000 a month, but the Defense Department has announced it will need more men after July 1, when a large number of draftees will be completing their two years of service.

Pentagon officials said the increase had nothing to do with the situation in Indochina.

Old Newsboys Report Sale Ahead of 1953

By PAUL JONES

Old Newsboys Day Friday night was headed for a new sale record as the army of old newsies began tabulating their day's sale of the special cerebral palsy edition of The Journal-Constitution.

Officials of the Variety Club, co-sponsors with The Journal-Constitution of Old Newsboys Day, reported that the sale is "well above last year's high mark of $56,000.

Overcast skies and intermittent showers hampered the newsies who took up their stands throughout Atlanta following the colorful parade shortly before noon Friday. But Atlantans gave generously to the fund, all of which goes to aid the Cerebral Palsy School on Ponce de Leon avenue, Northeast.

The drive got off to a "flying start" this year with Ed Sullivan, Broadway writer and TV star, sparking the opening two weeks ago. Advance gifts were higher than ever before.

Mayor Hartsfield led the noisy, merry parade down Peachtree street. Hizzoner pushed a wheelbarrow, loaded with papers.

Atlanta Transit Co. operators set the cash register to jingling with early morning sales to trolley riders. Most all operators reported they "sold out" on their first trip to town. Riders, however, gave generously throughout the day without receiving copies of the special edition.

Hampered in their street sales, hundreds of the Old Newsboys went into office buildings where they piled up a record amount for this type of sale.

Screen and TV stars Martha Stewart and Lew Parker braved the showers to take up their stand at Broad and Alabama streets along with Constitution women's page editor Agnes McCarty. They offered autographed papers to "big spenders."

Dean Raimundo de Ovies and Ernest Rogers, Journal columnist, were "neck and neck" with Sam Dull, Journal advertising salesman, in their personal "grudge" match. Both had reported sales of $680 late Friday.

1st Wounded Flown From Dien Bien Phu

Bad Weather Delays Copter, Bringing Rumor of Red Stall

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina, May 15 (AP)—The first of seriously wounded French Union soldiers were evacuated from captured Dien Bien Phu last night, the French command announced.

The initial group of the 450 who are expected to be brought out by agreement with the Communist-led Vietminh arrived by plane at Hanoi just before 11 p.m. They included eight men—French paratroopers, Algerians and Foreign Legionnaires.

The French command said the helicopter which flew to Dien Bien Phu to bring out the first load was "blocked in" by stormy weather for hours after landing, delaying the evacuation operation.

RUMORS OF DEMANDS

The delay had caused rumors that the Vietminh was placing fresh political demands as its price for carrying out the evacuation agreement reached at Dien Bien Phu yesterday when a French doctor headed a mission to the former French fortress 175 miles west of Hanoi.

The French spokesman had denied knowledge of any such demands being made by the Vietminh, however.

(French informants in Paris had reported that the Vietminh was demanding neutralization of the Dien Bien Phu area in such a way as to give it freedom for movement of troops in and out of the area. Such a right would facilitate the movement of battle-hardened regulars from Dien Bien Phu to attack Hanoi.)

TO LUANG PRABANG

The first helicopter load was ferried to Luang Prabang, the royal capital of Laos, and then transferred to a Dakota (C47) transport for the ride to Hanoi.

A French spokesman said the helicopter was forced to remain in Dien Bien Phu all day after landing at 10 a.m.

The wounded were whisked at once from the airport to Lanessan Hospital.

The spokesman said eight other wounded had been carried to Luang Prabang and presumably would be brought on here tomorrow.

Islanders Ask for End To A-Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 14 (AP)—Representatives of the people of the Marshall Islands in the Pacific have appealed to the United Nations for an immediate end to experiments with hydrogen bombs in their area

They reported the inhabitants of two atolls in the island group—Rongelab and Uterik—are suffering from a lowering of the blood count, burns, nausea and are losing hair from their heads since the recent U.S. hydrogen explosion tests.

SAME SYMPTONS

These are symptoms which have been noted among persons who have become victims of radioactivity from nuclear explosions.

The appeal was contained in a petition to the United Nations dated April 20, released here today. It was signed by members of a Marshallese Congress "holdover committee." Members of the committee said they were empowered by the Marshallese Congress to act in its name when it is not in session.

The committee said if experiments with lethal weapons were absolutely necessary for the well-being of all people of this world and cannot be stopped or changed to other areas, it suggested:

4 SUGGESTIONS

1. All possible precautionary measures be taken before such weapons are exploded.

2. All people living in the Marshall Island area be instructed in safety measures.

3 Adquate funds be set aside to pay for the possessions of the people in case they have to be moved from their homes.

4. Marshallese medical practitioners and health aides should be instructed in detecting and circumventing preventable dangers.

NO REPUDIATION

The Marshall Islanders' committee said the petition was not a repudiation of the United States, as the governing agency for the United Nations under the trusteeship agreement, but that they were worried because of the increasing danger from the H bomb experiments.

The United States announced last night the completion of a series of hydrogen explosion tests at the Pacific proving grounds.

The United States holds this area as a trust territory administered under the United Nations.

Eisenhowers To Weekend At Md. Camp

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower will spend the weekend at Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains.

They plan to leave Washington at 7:30 a.m., EST, tomorrow for the 60 mile drive to the retreat near Thurmont, Md. They will return Sunday evening.

The President and the first lady probably will drive from Camp David sometime tomorrow or Sunday to inspect the renovation work on their farm home at Gettysburg. Oa.

Bandit Hunted in Double Slaying At Drive-In Grocery in Moultrie

Constitution State News Service

MOULTRIE, May 14—State and local officers are pressing a search for a lone bandit in the double slaying early Friday of a nightwatchman and an attendant at an all-night driv-in grocery at an all-night drive-in grocery city limits.

Colquitt County Sheriff Eddie Gordon said the two victims, E. T. Norman, 40, employe at the grocery store, and Broome Croft, 42, nightwatchman at a nearby motor company, had been shot and bludgeoned and their throats slashed.

Apparently the double slaying grew out of a robbery in which the loot amounted to not more than $20, the sheriff said.

The blood-stained bodies were discovered at approximately 5 a.m. by Jerrell Rogers, a Colquitt County farmer, who stopped by for a package of matches while en route to gather up field hands. He immediately notified police.

While Rogers was summoning police, S. T. Hobbs, who is employed in Adel, stopped by to get a loaf of bread. He joined in spreading the alarm.

A service station attendant, who works a short distance from the slaying scene, told police he saw a man enter the store at about 4 a.m. He said he saw the man leave a few minutes later with a package under his arm and slink along a ditch near the rear of the store.

Bloodhounds hurried to the scene failed to pick up the trail because of rain before and after the slaying.

Dr. Herman Jones, of the State Crime Laboratory, and Lt. W. E. McDuffie, of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, were brought in to assist in the investigation.

The crime, at first believed to have been the work of two men or more, was reconstructed this way by Sheriff Gordon and Moultrie Police Chief C. R. Ranew:

The nightwatchman walked up to visit with Norman shortly before 3 a.m. Sgt. Jesse Hunter, of the Moultrie police, drove by the store at 3 a.m. and saw the two drinking coffee.

Later the killer stepped inside and fired a gun, believed to be a small caliber pistol, at Norman, who was sitting in a chair near the cash register. The bullet struck Norman in the forehead, probably killing him instantly.

Then the robber struck Croft, who had risen from his chair across from the counter, with a heavy object, breaking his neck.

Dallas Lanier, one of the owners of the store, said he left the drive-in at about 10 p.m. Thursday and left $16 in change in the cash register. Lanier said the $16, plus whatever money was taken in during the remainder of the night, was missing.

"LUCKY SEVEN"—PEORIA, Ill., May 14—Four-year-old Patricia Gramm holds up the head of a 3-day-old Ayrshire steer calf, named Lucky Seven, on the farm of her grandfather, Maurice Zerwekh, near here. The calf has a numeral seven emblazoned on its face.

Winnie Barges Out To Welcome the Queen

SOUTHAMPTON, England, May 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, sporting a yachting cap and an eight-inch cigar, sped seaward tonight to meet Queen Elizabeth II and welcome her back to England.

A gleaming mahogany admiral's barge carried Churchill out of Southampton Harbor to meet the royal yacht Britannia and the mighty escort—a score of warships of every type from patrol boats to aircraft carriers—that convoyed it up the English Channel in triumphal procession today.

The Prime Minister boarded the Britannia shortly after 6 p.m., when it entered the Solent, a strait separating the harbor entrance from the Isle of Wight. He will remain aboard until tomorrow, when the yacht enters the Thames River on its way to London.

LANDS TOMORROW

Churchill had not expected to see the Queen until tomorrow, when she lands at London's Westminster Pier, but today his office at 10 Downing Street announced that the Queen had invited him to make the overnight trip.

He left for Southampton by train a few hours later, taking along five suitcases loaded with clothes appropriate to any ceremonial occasion that may arise during his brief cruise with the Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

London gossip promptly linked the surprise invitation with persistent rumors that the 79-year-old Prime Minister plans to retire soon.

LONDON ANXIOUS

Churchill left behind him an anxious London, drenched by rain for the second time in three days and fearful that a downpour tomorrow may force cancellation of the gala welcome planned for the Queen.

Britons turned out by the teeming thousands to cheer their Queen, who has been away for six months on a tour of the Commonwealth. Sightseers lined the cliffs, jammed seaside villas and hotels, and swarmed out in boats, helicopters and light planes to watch the royal procession pass.

Bandit, 77, Slain After $7,900 Haul

DAVENPORT, Iowa, May 14 (AP)—A 77-year-old man was shot and killed today a short time after he robbed the Northwest Davenport Turner Hall of about $7,900.

Police identified him as John Healy, alias John Ward, who had registered at a Davenport hotel. He was shot by LaVerne Ruefer, 42, manager of the hall, and died in a hospital.

Wearing a Halloween mask and carrying a revolver, the elderly bandit appeared at the Ruefer apartment over the hall and told the manager, "I'm sorry about this. I need the money."

He forced Ruefer to open a safe in which funds of the fraternal society were kept. As he was making a getaway Ruefer got a shotgun he kept in his apartment and shot out a window at the man.

Panel Votes $1.2 Billion Atom Fund

VA Would Get $3,805,512,800

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, May 14—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved today an omnibus appropriations bill running to $5,700,950,413.

The great bulk of the money would go to the atomic energy program, $1,235,780,300, and to the Veterans Administration, $3,805,512,800.

In the process of clearing for Senate action this measure, which had been passed in the House and officially is known as the independent offices bill, the Senate committee rejected a housing rider that had been added by the House.

PERILED PROJECTS

This rider, though held by the committee to be "ambiguous," would have put under possible peril aspects of 82 slum clearance projects in the United States.

As approved by the House the proviso had read:

". . . No funds in this act (referring to slum clearance) shall be available for payment to capital grants under any contract for predominantly residential uses where incidental uses are not restricted to those normally essential for residential uses."

The Senate committee, following the lead of a subcommittee that earlier had recommended striking this language, thus observed:

OFFENDING LANGUAGE

"Since this language is ambiguous and may have far-reaching consequences affecting 82 projects in all sections of the country not foreseeable at this time and could seriously impair slum clearance and urban redevelopment under outstanding contracts, and since the subject is now being considered by the appropriate legislative committees of the Congress, this committee recommends that this provision be stricken from the bill."

Almost certainly, when the bill comes on for final action, the Senate itself will follow suit. It will then be necessary to prevail on the House to drop the offending language or to make some sort of compromise.

AEC Silent On Security Breach Report

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today its New York office will be reorganized but refused comment on a published report that a second important AEC advisor "has been challenged on security grounds."

There was no specific comment, either, on a report that three of the five AEC commissioners and several top staff members are planning to quit.

The first top advisor challenged for security reasons was Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, a pioneer scientist in the atomic energy program. He was given a hearing, results of which have not yet been announced.

A commission staff member said reorganization of the New York office will result in letting out some people and transferring others but there was no indication that top level personnel migh be affected. The changes, to take effect July 1, will shift some New York functions to Oak Ridge, Tenn.

White House Gags Army's Adams Concerning Huddle on McCarthy

meeting. He particularly wanted to know the part played by Henry Cabot Lodge, now the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, who was serving at that time as an assistant to the President.

Welch said that Adams had been instructed to answer no further questions on that subject by Robert B. Anderson, acting secretary of defense. He said it was his impression that Anderson was "transmitting instructions."

Democrats, who have been unfriendly to McCarthy in this controversy, immediately challenged the administration ruling.

The ruling appeared likely to unite the committee Republicans and Democrats in a challenge to the executive branch.

When Symington moved today that Adams be directed to answer the questions despite the instructions given him by Anderson, the clear warning was that a contempt citation might be voted if the witness persisted in his refusal.

DAY IN SPOTLIGHT

Other highlights:

1. Three Republican committee members, now sitting as judges in the McCarthy-Army controversy, were sworn voluntarily as witnesses. They told of conferences with Adams in January at which efforts to halt McCarthy committee subpoenas for Army Loyalty-Security Board members were coupled with discussion of the Cohn-Schine affair.

2. Adams declined to withdraw charges of improper pressure made against Francis Carr, subcommittee staff director, on behalf of favors for Schine. He conceded that he did not regard Carr's actions as improper until after McCarthy and his associates filed their countercharges against Army officials.

3. Directing Adams' attention to statutes dealing with perjury, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) posed 26 specific questions to Adams about statements or allegations made on the McCarthy side. Adams, under oath, said they were untrue. Jackson served notice that similar questions would be directed to McCarthy and Cohn.

4. Senator Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), acting subcommittee chairman, reported further progress on efforts to get the Army's monitored telephone conversations into the record. He said letters were being circulated over the weekend for the signature of committee members involved.

SYMINGTON LEADS

Symington led the fight against the secrecy ban. He was backed publicly by both his Democratic colleagues—Jackson and John L. McClellan (Ark) and by Mundt.

All made the point that since Adams had volunteered discussion of the high-level conference on Wednesday, he no longer could refuse to discuss it.

Present at the session, in addition to Adams, were Atty. Gen. Brownell, William Rogers, deputy attorney general; Lodge, and Gerald Morgan, an administrative assistant to the President.

Welch raised his objection to questions about this conference in the form of a point of order, declaring:

"This was a high-level discussion of the executive department, and this witness has been instructed not to testify as to the interchange of views of people at that high level at that meeting."

Warning the committee again that the charges made by the Army against McCarthy and his staff are serious, McClellan declared that the committee has a right to know "if there was someone higher than Mr. Adams and Mr. Stevens that was directing their actions."

Symington said that the meeting "is perhaps the most important conference of all because it is where much, if not most, of all this business started."

As to whether President Eisenhower gave the order, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said "no comment."

Reds Agree A Truce Due Guarantee

Cambodia be separated from the Viet Nam problem, and that Communist troops leave the two sparsely populated states at the same time the French do.

Molotov said the French underestimated the Communist movements in both states, and repeated his demand for recognition of the two "phantom" regimes.

Bidault called for a cease-fire with safeguards and then political discussion. Molotov said it was "impossible to separate the ending of the war from the solution of at least some political problems."

After today's three-hour debate, the nine nations agreed to meet in secret session Monday. Only the leader of each delegation and three top advisers will attend.

UNDERWRITING

Molotov read the French proposal providing for the nine nations represented here to underwrite any settlement and to consult over any violations before taking "appropriate measures, either individually or collectively."

He said he agreed with every word of the French proposal, except "individually." Western officials said that meant he wanted to eliminate the possibility of the United States, France or Britain taking punitive action without Soviet agreement if a truce were broken.

For the second time this week Molotov assailed the U.S. plan for a Southeast Asian defense pact as a smoke screen for extending the Indochina war.

Bidault said the United States, Britain and the three Associated States of Indochina "have already given their approval to the principle of international control and of the guarantee of the accords" which might be reached here.

Matron Wins $42,500 In False Arrest Suit

By JIMMY WALKER

A federal court jury awarded $42,500 damages Friday to Mrs. Iona Portwood, Atlanta hat designer, in her civil suit against Sears-Roebuck & Co. charging "false imprisonment" and "malicious prosecution."

The decision came at 5:50 p.m., five hours after the case was taken to the jury room, and three days after proceedings began.

An attorney for the company said the case most likely would be appealed.

BASED ON 2 CHARGES

The frail, 47-year-old woman, of 110 Fifth St., NE, won $17,500 on the "malicious prosecution" claim, and $25,000 on the "false imprisonment" charge. She had asked $250,000 total damages.

Her suit grew out of an incident at Sears' Ponce de Leon store Nov. 16, 1953. Mrs. Portwood claimed she was accused of passing a worthless $75 check while she was waiting at a cashier's window to change a $500 bill. She testified that she was booked at the police station on forgery charges but was cleared the next day in Recorder's Court on grounds of "mistaken identity."

CLOSING ARGUMENTS

Earlier testimony brought out the check was passed by Mrs. Peggy Ann Long Bernard, apparently in line ahead of Mrs. Portwood.

In Friday's closing arguments, William Sibley, company counsel, raised the possibility that "this was an engineered, carefully-planned thing with the $500 to pay for Mrs. Portwood's bond."

Plaintiff's attorneys, Pierre Howard and Elmo Holt, denounced what they called the company's efforts "by innuendo to connect Mrs. Portwood with a known forger."

STUDENTS QUIZ GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES ON EMORY PROGRAM

Gowen Blasts Proposal To Kill Public Schools

By M. L. ST. JOHN

Gubernatorial candidate Charlie Gowen was the only one of four candidates Friday night to take an outright stand against the proposed constitutional amendment which would permit abolition of Georgia's public school system.

This was pinpointed by questions from college students at Emory University as candidates M. E. Thompson, Fred Hand, Ben Garland and Gowen submitted themselves to far-reaching questions for more than two hours.

A most significant development was an agreement among the four that segregation and the county unit system will not be issues in the campaign. They all declared that all candidates favor continuation of both segregation and the unit system.

Candidate Garland's proposal to give veterans a bonus was opposed by the other three as impractical. Garland drew "amens" when he said the cost of operating the state's mental hospitals could be reduced by eliminating whisky sales in the state.

PAY OF TEACHERS

Hand warned that promises of the other three candidates to increase teachers' salaries could be empty promises if the money isn't available. He said he, too, wants to increase teachers' pay but he doesn't see the possibility of funds available with the state facing a deficit.

Thompson offered a new promise to have the state make grants to cities for roads and street building just as it does to counties now for such purposes.

All the candidates agreed that laws should be enforced to eliminate high cost of political campaigning. Thompson advocated all candidates appearing on platforms together over the state.

Hand said the cost of television, radio and newspaper advertising for political races is too high.

AIR OF FRIENDSHIP

An air of friendship prevailed among the candidates as they answered with brevity, calmness and politeness the questions submitted by college and high school students. Once or twice there were some humorous exchanges among the candidates—particularly between Hand and Gowen and between Thompson and Gowen on Gowen's financial plan for the state.

Biggest applause came when Gowen challenged statements by Thompson and Hand that the Talmadge-sponsored constitutional amendment in itself "does nothing." Thompson and Hand contended that the amendment if it passes merely authorizes the legislature to do what in its best judgment it should do about preserving segregation should the court rule against segregation.

"This amendment knocks out the system of public schools," Gowen said. "If that means nothing, then we have operated since 1877 on a meaningless provision. This provision is our guarantee of public schools. It will be an evil day when it is nullified."

Tom Linder, the other announced candidate for governor, had a previous engagement and could not participate in the panel.

Ike Says Rifts Fail To Blur Americanism happens to the dictatorships of the past.

"All gone," the President said.

Except for his serious observations on the domestic scene and world problems, Eisenhower appeared to be in a mellow mood as he faced the representatives of all the armed services.

He referred to his remarks as "rambling reminiscences," pointing out that he entered military service 43 years ago next month.

The President said that when men of each of the armed services presented the colors tonight he got a "thrill as great as it was 43 years ago."

He noted that customarily when military men get together there is a "traffic jam" of conversation but tonight he had the "privilege of the chair."

The President said he has been in many difficult places with Americans and from these experiences has become convinced that "free men can do anything" in a united cause when they set their hearts to it.

U.S. Agrees To Discuss Sending GIs

Action on the new request presumably will depend largely on whether additional planes can be spared.

American diplomats, still driving toward Secretary Dulles' proposed Southeast Asia anti-Communist alliance, continued talks meanwhile with diplomats of non-Communist Asian nations.

Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy conferred today with Pakistan Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali. Ali said they discussed Southeast Asia, including Indochina. He declined to elaborate.

The State Department has already been informed by India, Indonesia and Burma that they are not prepared to join such an alliance. The department, seeking as much Asian support as possible for the pact, plans to continue keeping the so-called "neutralist" Asian nations informed of developments in hope some eventually may go along.

Prospects for the alliance got a boost Thursday when T. Clifton Webb, New Zealand's minister of external affairs, said in London his country favors the proposed alliance.

New Zealand is one of the 10 primary nations this country has had in mind for the new alliance. The others are Britain, France, Thailand, Australia, the Philippines, the three Indochina states and the United States.

Indochina Decision Can't Be Postponed

When the Geneva Conference began, The Constitution said editorially that the issue of peace or war in Asia would be settled there. Nothing that has transpired since has served to change that opinion.

If the United States finally decides to write off Indochina, it will amount only to postponing the inevitable. Somewhere in Asia, Communist aggression must be stopped unless the whole continent is to fall under Moscow's domination.

A decision must be made as to whether it would be cheaper to call the Communists' hand in Indochina or to wait for further buildups and bigger blows later. Red China's military power, provided with equipment and supplies by Soviet Russia, is growing. She has unlimited manpower, which equipped with adequate arms could present the most formidable military force in Asia since Ghengis Khan.

Discussions are now going on between France and the United States that will determine the fate of Indochina. The French have asked what we are willing to do if an honorable cease-fire cannot be reached at Geneva about Indochina. If no such settlement is reached, the fall of Indochina becomes inevitable unless we intervene.

The first signs of a break in the deadlock about a cease-fire is Moscow's proposal that any settlement in Indochina be carried out under a neutral nations' supervisory commission. It looks like a concession and a ray of hope. Let us hope so.

If all Asia goes Communist, Moscow's ambitions to dominate the world would be near fulfillment. Our fond dreams of isolation would become in reality what they are—figments of the imagination.

The French are weary of Indochina. The only thing that is keeping the present unstable government in office is the hope of a settlement in that country or, failing that, active support of the United States.

At any rate, a diplomatic showdown is at hand. The United States must adopt a policy on Indochina and must make known its intentions to the Communists. The present policy of indecision and vacillation is worse than none.

The American people will support whatever is necessary for the security and survival of this nation. There can be no guarantee of either should Asia fall to the Communists.

Iowa Women Indulge Their Prying Instinct

In certain sections of the country, oldtimers can remember a comic strip called "Roger Bean" in which there was a prominent and poky character named "Mrs. Probe." A whole club of "Mrs. Probes" is now operating, it is reported, in Des Moines, Iowa.

There a group of women who call themselves the Christian Association of Public Affairs is investigating "communism, public officials and suspected crime."

Their current probe is deputy sheriffs.

Their platform is inclusive. It covers:

Investigation of how and for what tax money is being spent; investigation of public aid programs; checks of "criminal practices we have seen"; investigation of "all our investigators."

These Christian Association of Public Affairs members started out to call themselves the Christian Investigation Assn., but changed the name because they didn't want to give away the fact that they were investigating anyone. What they could have called their organization is Busy Bodies Gossip, Inc., or Curiosity Unlimited.

A fine kettle of fishyeyed citizens we Americans have become at midcentury. "Who takes care of the caretaker's daughter?" has become who investigates the investigator's daughter while the investigator is investigating the investigator.

What we would like to know is how these Iowa women could fail to include the corn borer, the army worm and the chinch bug.

What America needs is fewer "Mrs. Probes" and more members of Mind Your Own Business.

Unified Armed Services Impressive in Action

Georgians will get a look at the unified services in action today at Dobbins Air Force Base in connection with the observance of Armed Forces Week. B-47 bombers, made at Lockheed, will be put through their paces and Air Force and Navy fighters will join in a C-47 paratrooper attack on the base.

For 30 minutes there will be a simulated war as Army infantry attempts to protect the base from enemy capture. The demonstration will show all the services in action, depicting the cooperation between the Navy, Army and Air Force in actual combat conditions.

The action will climax Georgia's week-long observance of Armed Forces week, events of which have proved enlightening and inspirational to all the citizens of the state. The parade and festivities in Atlanta Thursday were most heartening.

Wednesday the Atlanta General Depot, one of the largest installations of its kind in the world, held open house for the public. In addition to Army displays, there were exhibits of Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, National Guard, the Army Nurse Corps and the Women's Army Corps. Atlanta is proud of the job being done by the depot, which serves a vast area of armed force installations.

Along with the mock battle at Dobbins, the Lockheed plant itself will be open to visitors from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. One of the world's largest aircraft manufacturing plants, this Marietta facility will provide the public with a look at Georgia's contribution to the nation's growing air might.

The whole state is pleased with these fine demonstrations of unity and efficiency in the armed services.

Tornado Alert System Has Saved Lives in '54

With the 1954 tornado season about over, let's take a look at the record, particularly in regard to the controversial subject of tornado warnings. The controversy of course has been on whether they do more good than harm.

From away out in Texas, where the big winds often generate, comes the flat statement that the warning system this season greatly reduced the loss of life. The report, originating in Amarillo, points out that whereas tornadic storms in the past had killed scores of persons, on two separate days this year when tornadoes hit 20 Texas towns and 18 in Texas and Oklahoma, there were only two lives lost.

The story says further that so far in 1954 only three tornadoes have struck without previous warning, and then they were only 20 miles off the predicted course.

Texans take a tornado alarm seriously. State police are assigned to the danger area, volunteer observers take their stations and scan the sky for any sign of an ominous funnel. Radar goes on the job. Once a funnel-shaped storm is spotted it is tracked. The word goes out in its probable path and residents stay close to the storm cellar.

The nation's tornado warning system is comparatively new and not airtight, but there is plenty of evidence that it is effective as people come to understand it and to use it.

Man cannot command the wind "peace be still" and get obedience. But at least he's learning to anticipate nature at its worst behavior and hide from it.

Carolina Brush Burners Get Warning From Sky

North Carolina attacks woods burners from the air. A spotter plane with loudspeaker cruises the timberlands and shouts down a warning to the thoughtless or careless who are about to start a fire in the woods.

The command from on high is accompanied by a seedling tree thrown from the plane and bearing leaflets, pamphlets that is, telling of the fire hazards.

The plan should be most effective, especially if the plane were coated with invisible paint.

Imagine the reaction of a would-be woods burner at hearing an admonishing voice from the sky just as he started to apply the torch to a pile of brush. The experience would be akin to such as no man has had since that of Father Abraham.

Old Dog Tray Has Not Announced Yet

In the Griffin Daily News

Whoopee!

Georgians who traditionally like our politics hot are in for a ripsnorting summer. Everybody but Old Dog Tray has announced for governor and we expect him to throw his hat in the ring any minute.

Even Tom Linder, czar of the Market Bulletin and the commodities market, has finally announced after more years of planning to run than Ralph McGill's dog has fleas. He's got his hat in the ring but please, fellow Georgians, don't let him get his foot in the door or his mouth in the trough.

To make matters even more interesting, Governor Talmadge says he is considering running for Tom Linder's old job as agriculture commissioner.

So all the candidates will make for great confusion and the bright boys with the quick wits and slow muscles who like to pick the winner for the easy job he'll give them haven't much chance this year.

Housewife Compares Georgia Milk Prices With Prices Charged by Kansas Stores

East Point — I heartily second the suggestion of Robert R. Jackson Sr. for housewives to rise up and be heard concerning the price of milk.

If during the winter months in western Kansas, where they had snow on May 1, they can sell cartons of homogenized vitamin D milk in the stores for two quarts for 35 cents, surely Georgia with its longer grazing season and permanent pastures can do better than the present price.

A few days ago Mr. Duncan said we must be satisfied with the present price as he had had only five protests against the high prices while the distributors and producers were rapidly filing against lowering the price.

I say housewives, mothers and fathers grab your pens and let us be heard from one end of the state to the other.

Why Do Speeders Ignore Posted Limits?

Hapeville—It is to laugh (if one could, under the circumstances) to read of all the "safety measures" taken against speeders!

To stop the speedsters past my home, ignoring the 25 m.p.h. signs, I have phoned and written the mayor, called the police, and even protested at a council meeting—all to no avail!

Is it because no one cares, because it is not their children who are endangered? Or because officials are afraid of the public's dislike of speed "traps"?

Perhaps if the Governor sent the state police into various communities, temporarily, things would change.

Manners Are Missing In Senate Hearings

Louisville, Ga. — Cannot the amenity of manners be exercised in the Senate hearings?

It seems the height of ill-breeding to subject the debonair and dignified Mr. Welch to the insult of being accused of posing for TV —and speaking to Mr. Stevens in a pedantic manner as if he were a bad school boy.

After all, manners are about as important as morals.

Reeves' Poems Bring Cheer to Drab World

Alto — I feel that Ollie Reeves deserves unlimited praise for trying to keep us all cheered up in such an unpleasantly confused world. Often in my mind I check Ollie's poems against such famous masterpieces as, for example, The One Hoss Shay, and in many instances I think that Ollie's productions compare more than favorably.

He has such a gift for putting much into little.

If he ever comes out with a book, I intend to own it if I have to mortgage my farm to do so! You are indeed lucky to have such a gifted and prolific writer on your staff.

Americans Can Bite Hand Feeding Them

"This rain comes to you with the compliments of the Federal Government."

Such a statement, exaggerated, of course, does have some basis in fact, for the operations of government fall daily and constantly into each life. Let's take an average day in the average family and see precisely in what manner the economic existence of the group is touched by the establishment upon the Potomac.

Possibly the first touch is at breakfast—assuming the rain, courtesy of the U.S. Weather Bureau, already has been noted. The cereals on the table were grown with government advice, marketed in grain exchanges regulated by the government, and propped in price by the Commodity Credit Corp. The coffee comes through courtesy of international treaty.

Dad kisses his wife goodbye—10 per cent Federal tax on lipstick—and leaves the home—mortgage guaranteed by the Veterans Administration, screen porch financed through the FHA.

The car waiting in the drive carries a U.S. excise tax and runs through courtesy of gasoline conforming to Federal standards. Approximately half of the cost of the road to town was paid for by Uncle Sam, and the policeman at the corner is a graduate of the FBI school in Washington. The train at the crossing runs via rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Junior is hot-footing it to school while Dad is on the way to work. The boy at school will be affected—though not directly—by the services of the U.S. Office of Education. At lunch he'll eat foods supplied partially through the Federal School Lunch program, and he'll study health rules formulated by researchers in the U.S. Public Health Department.

Dad, meantime, hits town, parks, stops at the drugstore, picks up some cigarettes—U.S. tax stamp attached—and walks over to the office. There he finds his hours of work regulated, a floor under his wages, and taxes and Old Age Benefits deducted.

If his firm processes foods, its operations are under scrutiny of Federal Pure Food and Drug Act operatives. If it's a financial institution, the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Reserve Board, or the Securities and Exchange Commission might be interested. Any advertising done by the company is subject to control of the various Fair Trade acts. A payroll tax levied upon the firm is used for unemployment insurance.

The Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice is looking around, too. The Internal Revenue people are interested, of course.

Back home, Mother might take a moment to listen to the radio or look at television—the Federal Communications Commission. If she makes a long distance call, it's taxed, and her letter travels via the government postoffice, subsidized if the missive is airmailed. Research of the Department of Health guides care of her baby, and practically everything she touches reflects open or hidden tax cost.

But it's a free country, and the people are the most prosperous in the world. The standard of living is the highest anywhere. The time for leisure is the greatest on all the globe.

The government has a hand in most everything, but—unlike many countries—we have a hand in the government.

Studying the program carefully, we found that refreshments would be served six times during the three days, and that some outlander by the name of D. D. We surely would enjoy the refreshments.—Jack Parks in the Dahlonega Nugget.

They're Talking Of a Gentle Bomb

Sometimes, around Washington, you pick up information that puzzles you. You can't tell whether it is just cocktail talk, the kind of gumbeating that goes on when people get together over a martini, or whether deep down, there's truth.

People chatted idly of the cobalt bomb, for example, long before it was known for sure that such a weapon was feasible. Now they are talking about another bomb—a bomb that won't kill unless you, in a sense, ask it to. And that takes some explaining.

The story goes like this: The ultimate objective of all war is not to kill your enemy, and destroy his cities and his factories, but to impose your will upon him—to render him helpless. Heretofore, to do that, we've had to kill him. Now, they say—"They" being nobody in authority—we've found a better way. Buried deep in the earth around the great A-bomb plants are huge reservoirs of poisonous by-products of plutonium, having a radioactive half-life varying from a few minutes to thousands of years. Now, you hear, the scientists are working on one of these by-products to make it useful as a weapon of war.

It could, the story goes, be distributed over an enemy city, or war plant, sprayed on as a dust or mist. It would not be lethal, except to those who remained exposed to it for 36 hours or more. Its deadliness would last for about a year. In a city so attacked, therefore, the people could choose. They could stay and die of radiation sickness—or leave the city an undamaged, but empty and useless shell.

The idea has certain appeal. We wouldn't be killing anybody who did not choose to stay and die. We wouldn't have to spend billions after the war rebuilding what we had destroyed. We would have found what man has searched for all his days upon the earth—a way to impose his will upon the enemy.

But I still don't know whether there is such a plan or not—or whether it's somebody's pipe dream.

Christian Church Shares Its Beliefs

Recently I was out of town for a preaching engagement. I commented to my host that there seemed to be many churches in the town I was visiting and that to keep so many churches going everyone must be going to church. He replied, "Everyone in this town goes to church except the ignorant and witless."

"And how many are there who are ignorant or witless?" I asked. He answered, "Many, I guess." "What percentage," I persisted. "Well," he said, "a recent survey showed that more than sixty per cent of the people in this town go to church each Sunday."

I remarked that more people in his town went to church each Sunday than would be true on a national basis, but I added, "That still leaves about 40 per cent who don't go to church. Are they all ignorant? If they are, then your percentage of ignorant persons is far above a national average."

He answered, "Maybe more of them are just plain indifferent than ignorant." I posed another question, "What are you doing about the people who are ignorant — or indifferent?"

The church of Jesus Christ is unashamedly a missionary church. The church is concerned with those who are both ignorant of Christ or are indifferent to Him. This concern accounts for much of the work of the church. It accounts for the fact that Christians sing Gospel songs on street corners and make community-wide visitations to the homes of every one.

It accounts for our work in slum areas and among the underprivileged." It accounts for home missions and foreign missions.

Someone recently told me that he thought that American Christians should not go to foreign countries and "force" our religious heritage upon other peoples. "Let them believe as they will," he said, "but don't force them to accept our faith." I said that no missionary could possibly force another person to believe and that no missionary wanted to.

But when you believe in something with all your heart and soul, you want to share it with others.

He was unpersuaded. It just so happened, however, that this man was associated with a company that has sales outlets in many foreign countries. I asked why his company attempted to sell its products in Africa and the Near East, in Asia and South America. "What we have to offer is better than what they have. What we offer will make their lives healthier and happier."

I commented, "That is just exactly what Christian missionaries believe — and ours is a soul saving and not a profit-making effort."

Senator Hoey Was Symbol of the Past

WASHINGTON—It was the combination of his years, which he wore with Southern grace, his courtly manners, his silver hair, his Prince Albert coat and his gates-ajar collar that added up to make Clyde R. Hoey, North Carolina Democrat, the very image of what a past generation always saw in its mind's eye when someone said: "United State Senator."

He was, indeed, the last leaf on the tree. Now he has fallen.

Left for us are only the bare bones of modernity and dull mediocrity — for us, that is, who can go back some years in memory, back to other and calmer and slower days when folks had time for the little amenities, and for meandering talk about nothing much, and for oratory that glittered with classical allusions and never a mention of hydrogen bombs, or jet planes, or the international Communist conspiracy, or "power vacuums," or "global concepts," or mutual defense pacts.

For all of us now, including the U.S. Senate, there is only continuous frustration with a mad world with which none of us, including the Senate, can quite keep up, and a repetitious voting of billions for defense and not much time or money for mercy.

But the Senate of a quarter of a century ago — and perhaps it is mostly a legend — passed long before the passing this week of Sen. Hoey. He becomes a symbol to commemorate it once again. It had passed, as a matter of fact, before the last senator who wore a Prince Albert had departed the Senate. That gentle and lovable figure, ex-Sen. Henry Fountain Ashurst of Arizona, still lives here among us.

About three hours before he died in his sleep in a chair in his office, and thus removed those relics forever, there was a scene in the Senate which typifies the modern idea.

The Senate's Democratic leader, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, rose to reply to a speech the day before by his opposite number, Republican leader William F. Knowland of California. Sen. Knowland had twitted the Democrats a bit for being critical of administration foreign policy, obviously with particular reference to Sen. Johnson's Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner speech and ex-President Truman's National Press Club address. But the Republican leader concluded with an appeal for bipartisanship, and it was altogether friendly.

In making his reply Sen. Johnson, in attitude and manner, was reminiscent of a member of a board of directors making a report. His typewritten speech lay on his desk before him.

A few years ago that would have been unthinkable. A senator reading a speech! And a party leader! It is common practice now. When Sen. Johnson finished his reading, there was a touch of gallantry. Sen. Knowland promptly jumped to his feet from his desk across the aisle, like a tennis player vaulting the net, and grabbed for Sen. Johnson's hand. The handshake made quite a sweet and pretty picture, even though both men — big, strapping fellows — looked a little embarrassed.

And well might they have been! For there was a time when Sen. Johnson's speech would have touched off, not a Damon and Pythias act, but a furious general debate. One senator after another would have joined in, with impromptu speeches full of rolling periods, and occasional thunder, and a be-damned to you, sir, and to your whole party, sir, from each side of the aisle for a whole lovely afternoon.

And not a drop of bipartisanship — and not a drop of malice.

A Spring Song Goes Sour

College man Lou Boudreau, spokesman for the Boston Red Sox, has resigned his little group from the American League contenders' party, and in so doing, has caused to be recalled a song of spring. That's the time, naturally, when every young (and old) manager's heart lightly turns to claims of superiority, fully hoping, and sometimes believing, that they surely will come to pass.

This was Boudreau dreaming of another flag waving over Fenway Park. Ted Williams was already a casualty by a week or more. Boudreau had access to the roll call of Red Sox pitching, and it must have been somewhat apparent that 20-game geniuses would be scarce.

Bisher

"We can win it," he said, "sure we can win it. We'll have to beat the Yankees, but this could be their year. You can't think about the pennant race, though, without giving Cleveland a lot of thought."

This was a bright day in St. Petersburg, early in the exhibition season. Boudreau had brought his champeens over from Sarasota to duel the Yankees. Eventually, as the excitement of the moment dwindled, and Williams became the central topic, a more practical attitude was assumed.

"With Williams," Boudreau said, "we've got a chance. Without him, we haven't got a chance. We might as well face it. He doesn't have to have the kind of year he had last year. That was phenomenal, of course. Nobody would expect him to have anything like that again, at his age. Last year it was a challenge to him, and gentlemen, don't ever challenge Mr. Williams."

—For One More Day of Fishing

Boudreau spoke recklessly of Williams' chances of opening the season in left field. This was before the doctors had said they'd have to go to the knife. But Williams on opening day never came off. Now the season is a month old and he's still on the bench, though out with a stick in his hand working on a return.

It doesn't seem that it has been two months since he showed up at Sarasota in time to take a flying leap that broke the bone that broke Boston's heart. Williams was explaining the other day how it all happened.

"I made a mistake. I'd been fishing down on the keys, the day before I was supposed to report, and I wanted to stay until the last minute. The next day I had to drive 280 miles to get to camp. I wanted to make it by noon, not be late, so they'd all be asking where was Williams. You know how people talk.

"I guess I was a little tired. I weighed 225 pounds. I'd decided to have some fun during the winter and take it off in training. So I got there and thought maybe I'd just report and not do any work that first day. But I decided I'd better get out there, so I put on a uniform and went out."

Williams' spring training lasted about 15 minutes. He shook hands with Hoot Evers, went over to talk with Jim Piersall about getting the outfield "calls" working, then fielded two balls. The third one was it.

The "calls" were working perfectly. Piersall called to Williams: "Yours, Ted, and you'll have to hustle." Williams tried to hustle, found his legs didn't have it, tried to roll and fell on the shoulder. Boudreau's spring dream went with him.

—What Pessimism Is to Football

Boudreau probably was overexerting his imagination when he spoke of the Red Sox as pennant people in the first place. Williams had disagreed with his boss' optimism back in the winter. Maybe it was the sight of Billy Consolo, "Outstanding rookie I've ever seen . . . brightest future I've ever seen." Or Harry Agganis, or Tom Brewer, or Jackie Jensen. But Boudreau was gassed up about his students.

Consolo now rests on the bench, a 19-year-old kid trying to get his bearings again. Agganis has held up rather well at first, a .290 hitter, but revealing a severe weakness with runs in view with his four runs batted in. Brewer has come well, lost his three-hitter to the White Sox the other day only through his own wildness. If he stays, he'll be the first pitcher to make the jump from Class D to majors since Sid Hudson, his pal. Brewer last worked for High Point-Thomasville in '51 before accepting sponsorship by the U.S. Army.

Be it a disease or whatever, optimism is as necessary in Florida as the tourists in the spring. It's the old football gimmick in reverse. One day on the bench in Tampa, Paul Richards spoke for some time on the evils that might befall the Yankees, the good fortune that might come to the White Sox. Then his face grew grim.

"I've got to look at it that way," he said. "How can anybody in his good senses expect to beat the Yankees this year, with that club they've got. But I've got to say I think we can, or there's no sense in playing the season. You've got to always think you've got a chance and you've got to talk like it for the sake of your team."

So Mr. Boudreau resigns from the race. He shall be forgiven, though, for he talked bravely beyond the call of duty.

AND 'TWAS A BULLY VISIT?

Bannister's Fast, But He Can't Outdistance Rules on Amateurs

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—England's Roger Bannister made a polite exit from the land of athletic rhubarbs today, carrying a little silver bowl as a memento of two action-filled days in the United States.

The bowl, four inches high and 7 3-8 inches in diameter, was purchased for $32.90 when it was learned the much bigger "Miracle Mile" trophy had a higher value than was permitted by international amateur regulations.

It was presented to Bannister by Bill Ackerman, Director of the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays, in recognition of his being the first man to run the mile in less than four minutes. He did it in 3:59.4 last week.

Bannister called the presentation "the climax of two very short days in the United States."

The slender, sandy-haired English medical student originally came here to appear on a television program. On landing, he learned his amateur status would be endangered if he appeared on commercially sponsored programs. As a result all TV and radio appearances were cancelled.

Although Bannister left in an atmosphere of warm friendliness, the controversy over his visit continued to rage in Britain and even got into the House of Commons today.

Laborite Emrys Hughes said he will question the government Monday about the abortive arrangements made by the British Information Service in New York for the appearance of Bannister on a sponsored television program.

Bannister, himself, praised the "extreme warmth and friendliness" of his reception in America.

Bombers Making Their Move, Take 9th of Last 11 Tries

DETROIT, May 14 (AP)—The New York Yankees, gaining momentum in their first western trip of the season, climbed into a tie for second place in the American League today, handing Detroit's Steve Gromek his first setback after five straight victories, 6-4.

The world champions swept to their ninth victory in 11 games by raking Gromek for a dozen hits—five of them for extra bases—in six innings. It was the first time this season the 33-year-old veteran failed to finish.

Despite their heavy hitting, the Yankees had to use three pitchers to stop the Tigers. The victory went to a 24-year-old rookie, Bob Grim.

Grim replaced starter Harry Byrd in the fifth inning but needed assistance in the ninth when the Tigers scored their fourth run. Johnny Sain was called in from the bullpen and after filling the bases with a walk, he choked off the Tiger threat by retiring Harvey Kuenn on a fly to center.

Orioles Top Bosox

BALTIMORE, May 14 (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, held to two hits for seven innings, broke loose for five runs in the eighth to thump the Boston Red Sox 7-2 before 16,484 fans here tonight.

Bullet Bob Turley, lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth when the score tied at 2-2, got credit for his fourth victory. Turley fanned eleven men to hike his league strikeout total to 53.

Giggie Masters Pels For Series Win, 3-0

Wooten Slams First Homer; DiPrima, Tanner Aid Cause

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 14—Taking a cue from Leo Cristante, who shut out New Orleans Thursday, Bob Giggie waved the whitewash brush over the Pels Friday night and Atlanta rode a 3-0 victory into third place. A crowd of 3,145 watched.

The Crackers cashed in these superb pitching stints to wrap up the series 2-1, after dropping five straight to the Pels.

Giggie was nicked for eight hits and signed four passes, but he was forceful in the clutches and stranded 11 runners.

In achieving his fourth success, compared to six setbacks, Giggie extended the Pels' runless drought to 19 consecutive innings. Ironically, New Orleans had averaged almost a run an inning against Cracker pitching in the five previous games.

The loss dropped the slumping Pels, who have been on the losing end seven times in nine games, into fourth place. However, the Crackers failed to gain on front-running Birmingham and are four lengths behind the Barons.

Junior Wooten started Ed Wolfe, who vacated in the sixth, reeling towards his fourth loss with a first-inning home run over the left field fence. It was Wooten's first of the year.

Wolfe' sidelined with a sore arm since he beat the Crackers April 30, surrendered another marker in the second. Frank Diprima led with a single, zipped to third on Jim Solt's double, and came home on an infield out.

The Crackers put across another surplus score in the third on singles by Chuck Tanner and Bob Montag and Pete Whisenant's RBI fly.

Giggie was in close quarters most of the way, but the Pels couldn't connect when it counted. They landed hits in all but the first and last inning and had runners on in all but one round.

The Crackers wasted several scoring opportunities, leaving a dozen men on base, in addition to banging into three double plays.

Giggie owes Chuck Tanner a large share of his shutout, for he made a circus catch of Erv Dusak's drive against the right-field fence with two on in the seventh. Tanner crashed into the wall, but held the ball.

All of the Crackers except Giggie gleaned a hit off Wolfe and two other Pel pitchers—Paul Almonte, who came on in the sixth, and Jim Waugh, who worked the last two heats.

Having ended their gay stay in New Orleans on a high note, the Crackers have a holiday Saturday while traveling to Memphis. Dick Donovan (0-0) and Mel Himes (3-1) are Manager Whitlow Wyatt's tentative pitching choices for Sunday's doubleheader against the Chicks.

CRACKER DIARY: When Junior Wooten homered off Ed Wolfe in the first inning Friday night, it marked the ninth straight game in which the Crackers have hit at least one round tripper. They have a total of 15 over the nine-game span. . . . Chuck Tanner stretched his consecutive-game hitting skein to 12 with a second-inning single. . . . Frank Torre, out of the lineup with a sore throat, watched Friday's game fro mthe stands.

JACKIE PARKER SIGNS CANADIAN GRID PACT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 14 (AP)—The Knoxville News-Sentinel said today Jackie Parker, Mississippi State's All-Southern T-quarterback, has signed a $15,000 contract to play professional football with the Edmonton Canadian League club.

Jackie Parker

The newspaper quoted Mississippi State publicity director Bob Hartley, now attending an SEC officials meeting in Birmingham, as saying Parker has decided to forego an opportunity to play in the College All-Stars game against the National Professional League champions at Chicago in August.

Parker was recommended to the Edmonton club, Hartley said, by state coach Darrell Royal, who formerly coached the Canadian team.

Parker, a Knoxville boy, led the SEC in scoring in 1952 with 120 points.

Unsung Royer Whips Ranked Tiger Jones

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—Widely criticized Jacques Royer-DeCrecy of France achieved a major ring upset tonight by winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Ralph (Tiger) Jones, the world's third-ranking middleweight, in Madison Square Garden.

Jones of Yonkers, N.Y., the 5-1 favorite, weighed 158 pounds; Jacques, 160-¾.

The blond Frenchman with the crew hair cut went into the ring as such a poorly regarded substitute that New York sports writers had been blasting matchmaker Billy Brown more than a week for arranging the nationally televised and broadcast bout.

Jacques, who substituted for injured Rocky Castellani of Cleveland, gave Jones a licking in the last half of the bout and had him hurt in the sixth and ninth rounds. In the 10th, the highly touted Tiger was hanging on.

Jacques, 26, was making his New York and television debut in his third American fight. He was regarded by the critics as an improper opponent because he had won but two of his last 11 bouts.

TECH'S BROYLES JOINS STAFF OF FLA. A&M PIGSKIN CLINIC

Special to The Constitution

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 14—Frank Broyles, backfield coach at Georgia Tech, will be one of the lecturers for the 10th annual Florida A&M football coaching clinic here June 14-19, A&M Athletic Director Jake Gaither disclosed today.

Frank Broyles

Broyles will serve with a group that includes Chuck Mather, head coach, University of Kansas; Sid Gillman, head coach, University of Cincinnati; John Eibner, head scout, University of Florida; Sam Langford, head trainer, University of Florida; Dwight Reed, Lincoln (Mo.) University, and Johnny McLendon, Hampton Institute.

Kansas' Mather is a clinic regular. He served on the program many years while head coach at Massilon (Ohio) High School. Gaither says much of A&M's colorful attack formation is patterned after Mather ideas.

Fowler Blanks Phillies

'Spoiler' Adams Stars Again

PHILADELPHIA, May 14 (AP)—Art Fowler, an 18-game winner with Atlanta last season, snapped the Philadelphia Phillies' three-game win streak tonight, shutting out the Phils on eight hits for a 1-0 Cincinnati victory.

Bobby Adams, who spoiled Robin Roberts' perfect no-hitter 24 hours earlier with a leadoff homer, started things off for the Reds this evening with a single to center.

Roy McMillan sacrificed him to second and Gus Bell's single brought him home with what proved to be the winning run.

Fowler was in very little trouble at any time. The Phillies got a pair of singles off the Cincinnati right-hander in the fourth but only after two were out and Johnny Wyrostek forced Gran Hamner to end the threat.

Murray Dickson went the distance for the Phillies and was charged with his third loss against four wins.

The aged, young and very young, male and female, run the gamut of emotions while intently watching Jack Thompson apply arm lock, then, at end, grimace in pain after being pinned in 14 minutes by Clyde Steeves. It was all a part of Paul Jones' weekly wrestling show at city auditorium Friday night. In other matches, Art Nelson won on disqualification of Yukon Eric; Red McIntyre and Harry Smith whipped Jack Dillon and the White Savage in a team tag affray, and Suzanne and Millie Stafford grappled to a sizzling draw.

Jim Dillion Breaks SEC Discus Mark

Tiger Beats Tech's Vereen In Shot, Qualifies in 3 Events

By LARRY FOX
Constitution Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, May 14—Auburn's Jim Dillion had himself a gala day Friday as qualifying heats were run off for the 22nd annual Southeastern Conference track and field meet. Finals are scheduled Saturday on Legion Field beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Dillion, who qualified in three events, capped his work on this dreary afternoon by setting a new SEC record in the discus. The husky former Olympic ace bested his own mark of 164' 6½" by just short of six feet as he sailed the metal platter 170' 4¼". His toss will stand up in Saturday's finals if none better it, and it looks as if the only man to outstrip the record toss will be Dillion himself.

The burly Auburn senior from Martins Ferry, Ohio, moved the iron ball 50 ft. 5½ in. to lead six qualifiers. Vereen, who had beaten Dillion in the shot the three times they met this year, was second at 50-1. Unless the weather gets worse, Vereen figures to improve and take the title Saturday. A very bad rain, however, would cut down all performances and perhaps Dillion's effort would stand.

Vereen was also second in the discus with 14 ft. 10¾ in.

Dillian followed his shot put triumph by qualifying in the javelin with a sixth-best toss of 173 ft. 11 in. All throws in the javelin were way off past performances. Joe May of LSU, who has broken 200 ft. this year, led at 187 ft. 2 in.

The LSU Bengals also followed form by leading the race of qualifiers with 15 while Auburn got 11 men into the finals and Florida, third of the premeet favorites, had 10. Alabama was next with eight while Georgia Tech and Georgia each had five. Two Georgia places were taken by hurdler Kermit Perry.

He actually bettered the record he set in the 1952 meet twice. In his first throw, he made 167' 9". His second was out of bounds and didn't count although it bettered the record and his third hit the new standard.

His discus record actually was not unexpected since he's been bettering 170" all spring.

Summaries of preliminary events:

SEC Heads Discuss Bowl Tie-up But Leave Decision Up in Air

BIRMINGHAM, May 14—Southeastern Conference athletic directors meeting here Friday morning took a long closed-session look at the possibility of a post-season bowl tieup, but apparently took no action and made no announcements.

However, it is doubtful that any tie-up will be made for this coming New Year's Day for no action can be taken by the SEC until its next scheduled meeting in December. By that time it will probably be too late to make any commitments.

Representatives of the Sugar Bowl were reported in Birmingham but so far as can be determined, were not present at the meeting. "The Sugar Bowl would be the logical choice if we were to tie-up with a bowl," Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd said after the meeting, adding that the athletic directors took no vote and are unable to make any decisions.

A decision would come from the school presidents at an SEC meeting like the one scheduled for December.

Dodd said that the bowl subject did come up but gave no indication as to how the opinion went. "I personally don't think there will be a tie-up," he said, "because I don't think it's to the bowl's advantage. But that's just my personal opinion."

Spec Towns

Norris Dean

SEC commissioner Bernie Moore, who presided over the meeting, admitted that the bowl problem was discussed but added that there was also talk about the future of bowl games as a whole, the NCAA TV program for next fall and the problems—real or fancied—of broadcast of Saturday night pro games and Saturday afternoon Canadian pro grid contests.

Track coaches Norris Dean of Georgia Tech and Spec Towns of Georgia took the lead at the morning scratch meeting toward speeding up and revamping the annual SEC meet.

Dean proposed—and it was passed—that the meet be run on a 10-minute schedule next year rather than with a 15-minute wait between events.

Towns proposed that events for freshman be included on next year's program since they won't be allowed to compete with the varsities after this season.

CINDER SIDENOTES: Tech was represented at the athletic directors meeting by football coach Bobby Dodd, business manager Howard Ector and assistant athletic director Tonto Coleman. . . The SEC publicity men held their meeting this morning with the longest agenda of any group. They elect officers Saturday . . . Wally Butts was here representing Georgia but both he and Dodd will return home Saturday. . . . Auburn suffered a severe blow when Bill Yarbrough, an all-around performer from Decatur, Ga., came down with the measles . . . Jess Curry of Kentucky, who qualified in two events, was a great prep star at Woodrow Wilson High School in Portsmouth, Va. He was the school's first four-letter man in recent years as football, basketball, track and baseball star. He's a varsity cager at Kentucky. . . . Georgia's Kermit Perry broke his hand when it banged against a hurdle last week but he's running easily anyway

RAIN STYMIES ATLANTA BASEBALLERS AGAIN

Athens, Americus Grab Diamond Crowns

Rain washed out many high school baseball games over the state Friday, including the final round of tilts in Atlanta's City League, but Billy Henderson's Athens nine and Jim Luck's Americus club evaded the showers long enough to power into the semi-finals of the state Class A playoffs.

Luck's Panthers, who copped the 1953 title by nipping Ringgold in the finals, thumped Douglas and grabbed the 1-A diadem. The Pirates fell, 10-3, in neutral, muddy Tifton as Robby Godwin hurled six-hit ball. Ray Hendricks drove in three runs with two triples.

Americus, which won the Tuesday opener, 10-0, will next play Tony Palma's 2-A champs from Chamblee. Athens will go against the winner of the Ringgold-South Cobb series.

Athens, after a previous 5-2 decision over Winder, bounced the same team in neutral Jefferson, 10-0, on a four-hit, ten-strike out, one walk stint by 14-year-old frosh right-hander Francis Tarkenton and Leon Williams' power hitting. Williams, who had six for six in the two games, poled a 360-foot homer, triple and single Friday scoring four runs.

Bobby Floyd allowed three hits, same number given up by Albany's Lefty Robert Denson,

Frank Jones

Billy Henderson

and faced only 23 men in Columbus High's sixth consecutive victory, a 1-0 squeak in 1-AA. Joe George, who whacked two hits, tallied the only run after blasting a triple.

Atlanta's City League will try again Monday to play its final round. The rained out West Fulton-Grady game is on tap Tuesday and, if a tie for the pennant exists, a playoff will begin Wednesday.

Frank Jones' Decatur Bulldogs will have a try at Marietta Monday and, if victorious, go against Griffin in a one-game playoff for the Southern Division 4-AA crown Tuesday. Rome has clinched the Northern Division title.

Tucker and Norcross, also rained out, will begin their series in the B playoffs at Tucker Monday.

Autrey Jr. Wins Class A Trapshoot

Eighteen-year-old Bob Autry Jr., of Atlanta, who was state junior champion trapshooter in 1952, Friday won the Class "A" state championship at the opening of the three-day Georgia meet at Capitol Gun Club, with a 198x200 performance.

John Lykins of Lexington, Ky., was Class "B" winner with 194x200 and W. L. Waldock of Sandusky, Ohio, was the Class "C" event winner.

Runners-up in the class championship shoots were: Class A, T. W. Cecil of Spartanburg, with 196x200; Class C, Cooper Cecil of Spartanburg, 189x200, and Class C, Robert Anderson of Memphis, Tenn., 184x200.

The winner of the L. E. Grant sliding Handicap trophy was W. A. (Bill) Golden of Columbus with 47x50, 24x25-71x75. He won over T. K. (Tackhole Dot) Lee of Birmingham who also had a 47x50 in the first shoot, but who dropped to 22x25 in the tie shoot-off.—ALLEN.

Kelly, Carson Macon Medalists

MACON, May 14—Lester Kelly and John Carson took medalist honors in the Peach Blossom Four-ball tournament Friday with a six-under par 64.

The University of Georgia linksters grabbed the No. 1 seeded position and face Ed Benson and Jack Lumpkin in their first round match Saturday.

Dancer To Carry Top Weight Today

Fascinator, Queen, Hopeful Meet in Pimlico Showdown

Native Dancer, TV idol of racing fans, will be strapped with the top weight of his career Saturday when he lines up for the Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park with 10 other handicap standouts.

The Dancer will carry 130 pounds, two more than he lugged when he won the American Derby at Chicago's Washington Park last August. The favorite will be spotting such lightweights as Flaunt and Resilient as much as 26 pounds.

The Belmont feature will be televised nationally (CBS) 3-3:30 p.m. (EST) and broadcast (ABC) 3:15-3:30 p.m.

Fascinator and Queen Hopeful meet at Pimlico for a showdown run. The two three-year-old fillies have met twice recently and each has come away with a victory.

Sports in Brief

RACING RESULTS — Ocean Breeze won the feature at Pimlico ($13.60) as Rare Knave and Best Air finished second and third. . . . Begorra came home in front at Belmont ($24.40) with Golden Gloves second and Ram O'War third. . . . Admiral Vee won the featured at Garden State ($8). Biscayne Bay was second and Windsor King, third . . . Rowston Manor won the Lingfield Derby trial stakes, beating out American-bred Ambler II who was fourth, by 11 lengths.

RACING RESULTS: Stranglehold took the Bay Meadows feature ($10.80) and Imbros ran second and Big Noise third. . . . A-Pacepep won the feature at Churchill Downs $5.00). Silver K was second and Mighty Moment third. . . . King For All streaked under the wire at Suffolk Downs ($4.40) as Swede Pete was second and Duke's Pride third.

Lakewood Drag Races Sunday

Anyone with a hankering to turn his family auto into a race car can satisfy that desire legally at Lakewood track Sunday.

The drag races, which start at 1 p.m., are for a quarter-mile between civilian autos. Any person can enter any type car.

Elimination heats are run between cars of comparable age, and the final winner will get a trophy.

Two Foes Face Ft. Mac

Fort McPherson has two Third Army opponents coming into town Saturday through Tuesday and the Macmen feel that they have a score to settle.

Camp Gordon will play the first of a two-game series at Mac Saturday. The second game is set for Sunday afternoon. Gordon was the last team to whip Fort Mac and the local soldiers are determined to extend their 11-game win streak at the expense of the Ramblers.

Fort Jackson comes in Monday for games that day and Tuesday. Jackson also whipped the Macmen and is the only team to get by former St. Louis Cardinal ace Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell.

Druid Semis Action Today

Bitsy Grant will meet Sam Daniel in the featured 2:00 match Saturday in the semifinal match of the annual Druid Hills Invitational tennis tournament.

In the semifinal singles match, Frank Willett clashes with young Allen Morris of Presbyterian College.

Larry Shippey and Crawford Henry will meet Brail and Mohr in a doubles match at 2:00. Other doubles bouts are scheduled to begin at 4.

Barons Bomb Moxeley, Grab Eighth Straight, 7-1

By the Associated Press

Mobile ace Hugh Moxeley couldn't stop high-flying Birmingham Friday night as the league leaders won a Southern Association baseball game, 7-1.

Hal Grote solved Moxeley with ease as he punched home four runs with a bases-loaded double and a single. Don Leppert homered for the Barons, who won their eighth straight.

Jim Bunning cooled Chattanooga bats as he turned in a 3-1 victory for Little Rock. Bunning needed help from John Weiss in the ninth but turned in a six-hitter.

The winners banged nine hits in seven innings off ex-Atlanta Cracker Gerry Lane, scoring all their runs on the Lookout ace.

Memphis clipped Nashville, 10-8, despite a last-inning rally by the Vols.

Raschi Haunts Bums For Fourth Straight

Beats Dodgers Again, 10-1, As Musial, Alston Hit Homers

BROOKLYN, May 14 (AP)—Vic Raschi, who tormented the Dodgers in world series as a New York Yankee, came to Ebbets Field tonight for the first time as a National Leaguer and pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 10-1 victory, their first in the Brooklyn park since Sept. 13, 1952.

After 12 straight losses here over two seasons, the Cardinals tore into the Dodgers from the very start, scoring two runs in the first inning and one each in the third and fourth. They put the verdict out of reach with a four-run explosion in the eighth and two more in the ninth. All told they got 14 hits.

Tom Alston, rookie first baseman for the Cards, blasted a home run over the right field scoreboard with two aboard in the eighth and Stan Musial got his 11th circuit smash of the season in the ninth, driving in two more runs.

JOE DELANY'S 21'-6½" BROAD JUMP THAT WON AA TITLE

Pressure-Heavy Leap Was In Athens; He'll Soar Again At Grady Today

Top Prep Aces Duel At Grady Oval Today

Hoboken, Sparta Milers To Test Grady's Whatley

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Georgia's most able high school track and field performers from four school classifications—AA, A, B and C—will duel in their specialties for individual and team honors on Grady Stadium's cinder oval here this afternoon, rain or shine.

Win, place and show finishers in the four state meets at Athens and Macon last week will begin the milling at 2 p.m. and finish about 5. Preliminaries will be run in the 880 relay, high and low hurdles, 100 and 200-yard dashes only. Only finals will be necessary in other events.

First three place finishers in each event will win the right to compete in the Georgia-Alabama meet next Saturday night at Grady.

North Fulton of Atlanta and Griffin, which tied for the state AA crown in Athens, and Chamblee, Calhoun of Morgan and Ashburn, winners of A, B and C titles in Macon, all are expected to send strong delegations.

Jordan's defending champs from Columbus, Atlanta Northside and O'Keefe, Druid Hills and College Park all also have strength enough to get into the team title argument.

Most interesting race of all could well be the mile run with Atlanta Grady's talented Everett Whatley, who won the state AA meet with a solid 4:35 time, slated to be given pressing competition by Hoboken's Owen Prescott and Sparta's Alex Long. Prescott set a new class C record of 4:44, but both he and Long, who gave Whatley all he could stride over in 1953, have run the distance in the 4:35 neighborhood.

The half mile should produce a merry free-for-all. Hugh Tankersley of Avondale has legged the four furlongs in 2:03.8 and 2:05.8 his last two times out, both setting meet records. Lanier's Hugh Wallace won the AA meet at 2:06.7 with O'Keefe's Wilbur Dover on his heels. Cliff Simonton of Lilburn set a new C mark of 2:09.6 only to have it eclipsed the same day by Oglethorpe County's Curtis Kitchens with a 2:08.6 romp.

North Fulton's hurdling Pete Calhoun, high point man in the AA meet with 12 plus, will resume his nose-and-nose fued with Griffin's Richard Brooks in the hurdles. And Northside's Lester Simerville and Griffin's Tom Simonton, who beat each other in the 220 and century at Athens, will have to look to their laurels against Chamblee's Doug Brown and College Park's Ward Lawton in the dashes.

Actually the Calhoun-Brooks' hurdles duel probably will be for second place, because Druid Hills' Tim Singleton hasn't lost a hurdles race in two years and is one of the finest timber toppers ever to operate in Southern high school circles. And, he'll be there, too.

Billy Salter, who has scored 22 points plus in the last two state AA meets, is a sure point producer for O'Keefe and ditto for big Joe Scarborough, field events' nifty, for Jordan. Bill Wood, the 440 whiz, also looks like a point grabber for College Park.

North Fulton's Joe DeLany and Paul Vickers, one-two at Athens with leaps of 21-6½ and 21-2, will lead a host of brilliant broad jumpers into action.

Best team title guess is Griffin.

Auburn Entry Team To Beat In AAU Meet

Coach Wilbur Hutsell's Auburn speedsters, who are busy this weekend trying to nail down their first Southeastern Conference track and field championship in Birmingham, will be favored to take their second straight Georgia AAU track title here at Grant Field next Saturday afternoon.

The Plainsmen will bring along three potential record-breakers in discus thrower Jim Dillion, the big Olympian; Jackie Creel, the mercury-heeled dash ace, and Bill Fickling, who specializes in the high and low hurdles.

Georgia Tech's Carl Vereen is expected to give the shot put mark a tumble, and Archie Vickers of Florida, if he is able to make the meet, is a good bet to beat the broad jump mark.

The Georgia AAU is open to all registered amateurs in the Southeast.

Tonto Coleman of Georgia Tech will serve as referee for the meet. Entries close next Tuesday.

MARTHA GRIZZARD WISHES CHAMPS LUCK

Pat Hicks (L), Charlotte Ashurst (R) Seek 2d State Title

BROWN'S HICKS, ASHURST EYE UNBEATABLE TENNIS RECORD

Brunette and stocky Pat Hicks and blonde and slim Charlotte Ashurst are almost exact opposites in every respect, but with tennis racquets in their hands they go together like ham and eggs, Sears and Roebuck, Damon and Pithias.

They've been "going steady" on Atlanta's tennis courts since they were freshmen at Brown High and, now as seniors, the two 17-year-olds can set an unbreakable record—that of winning every possible championship open to them for their four high school years.

That will be their goal when they take the Mercer University courts against Albany's Joyce Fort and Carol Tolbert for first-round play in the state Class AA girls net meet Tuesday morning.

Steady, smotoh-stroking Miss Ashurst and bounding, blasting Miss Hicks, coached by Happy Dowis, need only to cop a second successive state doubles title to quit the high school ranks unconquered. They have captured city (Region 3-AA) titles four straight years. In 1951 and 1952 there was no state meet, but they won the inaugural in 1953. In addition hte Hicks-Ashurst tandem stroked its way to the state lawn tennis title for girls 15-years-old-and-under in 1952.

March: 5—Tennessee, hame.

Zaharias Takes Lead In Capital

Suggs 5 Behind, Jameson Third

LANDOVER, Md., May 14 (AP)—Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Zaharias took over the halfway lead in the $5,000 Women's National Capital Open by a whopping five-stroke margin today by adding a 74 to her opening 73 for 147 for 36 holes.

Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Texas, first-round leader with a four-under-women's-par 71, putted her way to an 82 today and dropped into third place, six strokes off the pace.

Miss Jameson said she hit the ball better today than in her initial sub-par effort. But while she made a number of long putts in the first round, she didn't make a single putt of any distance today and three-putted four times.

Louise Suggs of Atlanta, the leading money winner on the ladies PGA tour, scrambled to a 77 for a 152 score, in second place and five strokes behind the Babe.

Betty Hicks, playing out of Durham, N. C., slipped slightly with 78 for 154 and fourth place, while one stroke back was the big hitter from Honolulu, Jackie Pung, who added a 76 for 155.

With the exception of Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., the scoring generally was higher this bleak, cold day. She had a 74, which was 13 strokes lower than her disappointing opening 87.

Play was from the front of the men's tees, about 6,450 yards to a men's par of 72 and women's par 75.

Mrs. Zaharias, who had the lowest nine-hole round of the first day with a 34, had that honor again today with an outgoing 35. She picked up seven strokes on Miss Jameson and four on Miss Suggs, both playing in back of her.

The Babe started by knocking a wedge shot eight inches from the cup for a birdie three. She missed a three-foot birdie putt on the second, and then followed par until the 8th when she hit a great spoon second shot 10 feet from the cup and dropped the putt for a birdie there.

The leading scores: Babe Zaharias, 73-74—147; Louise Suggs, 75-77—152; Betty Jameson, 71-82—153; Betty Hicks, 76-78—154; Jackie Pung, 79-76—155; Marlene Bauer, 82-75—157; x-Mrs. A. H. Allen, 75-82—157; Fay Crocker, 78-80—158; Marilynn Smith, 80-81—161; Bonnie Randolph, 80-81—161; Lesbia Lobo, 82-79—161; Beverly Hanson, 87-74—161; Betty Bush, 80-82—162; Pat O'Sullivan, 85-77—162; Peggy Kirk Bell, 82-83—165; Alice Bauer Hagge, 84-81—165; Betty Dodd, 86-81—167; x-Betty Garber, 83-84—167; x-Mrs. E. C. Ferriday Jr., 83-85—168; x-Mrs. Charles Egenroad, 83-89—172. x-Amateurs.

Bulldogs Need One Of Two From Tech

Title Remains Unsettled As Rain Forces Twin Bill

By JIMMY MANN
Constitution Sports Writer

ATHENS, May 14—Georgia's Bulldogs will have to wait until the last day of the season to cinch the Eastern half of the SEC championship. The first of two games scheduled with Georgia Tech Friday was rained out, and the clubs have a 2 p.m. doubleheader slated for Saturday.

Coach Jim Whatley of the Bulldogs called Tech's Joe Pittard early Friday and told him "It's raining too hard for me to go out and see how wet the field is."

AL PARRISH

Out To Take Tech

The Jackets, determined to raise their league average to 8-8 by sweeping both games from the Bulldogs, will hit the Athens road Saturday with the arms of Dave Redford (2-5) and Bob Patton (6-1) wrapped for afternoon mound service.

At Ag Hill diamond Georgia Ace Al Parrish (4-2) and Leon Houston (5-3) will be warming up and eager to get the division cincher in the books for the Bulldogs.

Houston is still the man Whatley mentions first. But that's no sign he will get the bid for the first game.

"It'll either be Houston or Parrish in the first one," said Whatley, "but I won't know for sure until just before game time."

Whatley says, "We're ready this time. Last week the boys had been reading the papers too much and forgot who they were playing. Not this time. We know we have to have one of 'em and are out to get it quick."

Auburn's life as potential division champion was prolonged another day, thanks to the rain. The Plainsmen, finished for the season with an 8-5 mark, are hoping the Jackets dump Georgia twice. That'll put them on the throne.

The Eastern division winner goes into a two-out-of-three game series with Ole Miss next week, dates and sites to be determined later.

The Rebels (6-3), rained out in their last two games of the season with Mississippi State, edged Tulane (10-6) for the Western championship.

Loreleis Hit Road

The Lorelei Ladies, Southeastern Regional girls softball champs, will leave for Birmingham Saturday morning where they will engage the Birmingham girls in a double header Saturday night at Wahouma Park.

OLE MISS RAINED OUT, HELPS SELF TO WESTERN SEC TITLE

BIRMINGHAM, May 14 (AP)—Mississippi, rained out in its last two games, took the Southeastern Conference Western Division title with a 6-3 record, commissioner Bernie Moore said today.

Ole Miss has a .667 percentage, a shade ahead of Tulane, which swept its final two games with Louisiana State this week. Tulane now has a 10-6 record for a percentage of .625.

The Eastern division title still is undecided. Georgia, the divisional leader, has a 9-4 edge but is scheduled to face Georgia Tech today and tomorrow.

If Georgia lost both games, winding up with a 9-6 record, Auburn would take the division crown with an 8-5 mark and a 15-point percentage edge. Auburn has completed its season.

Riley and Burns Enter Golf Finals at Birmingham

Texan Tops Mary Ann Downey; Marjorie Eliminates Nancy Reed

BIRMINGHAM, May 14 (AP)—Stocky Polly Riley, the defending champion of Fort Worth, and slender Marjorie Burns from Greensboro, N.C., moved into the finals of the Women's Southern golf tournament today.

Miss Riley, who has dominated this tournament as no other woman has in the last two decades, put down a rally by Mary Ann Downey and conquered the Baltimore girl 2 and 1 in their sefifinal match.

Miss Burns, who won the Women's Carolinas amateur last week, defeated Nancy Reed of Nashville 3 and 1.

Polly, seeking an unprecedented fifth Southern title, used pin-point chipping to defeat her stubborn opponent. Miss Burns' steadiness, coupled with Nancy's occasional wildness, carried the North Carolina state champion into the finals.

Miss Riley and Miss Burns meet in the 36-hole championship match tomorrow.

Polly, whose short game has been razor-sharp during the entire tournament, again was near perfect around the greens. She needed only one putt on eight holes. Miss Downey had only three one-putt greens.

AA Baseball Tourney Slated For Augusta

A state high school baseball tournament for Class AA region champions will be played this year for the first time since 1950. It will be played at the home of the pro Augusta Rams of the South Atlantic League during the week of May 24-30, exact dates depending upon what days the park is available.

Augusta's Richmond Academy, 1954 Region two titlist and state and Southeastern champion for the last three years, will be host team for the double-elimination meet.

Moultrie will represent 1-AA. Atlanta representative, expected to come from among Smith, Southwest and Grady, will be determined next week. Griffin, Rome and Decatur still are in the running for the Region Four crown.—ROBERTS.

Snead Takes Lead In Westbury Golf

Slammer Tops Demaret by 11; Doug Ford Moves to Fourth

WESTBURY, N.Y., May 14 (AP)—Bull-strong Sam Snead held up best in two wearisome rounds of golf through a cold, biting wind today to take third-round command of the Meadow Brook Round Robin tournament.

The Masters champion collared Jimmy Demaret, the first round leader, in a head-to-head morning duel and then fired a two-under-par 68 in the afternoon to seize a strong nine-point lead.

Sam Snead

When the adding machine had stopped whirring at dusk in this dizzy so-called "arithmetic open," there was old, balding Sam out front with 33 plus points, trailed by the rollicking Demaret with 24.

Demaret made a spectacular comeback after taking a nightmarish eight on the second hole this morning—a disaster that cost him 10 points in one swoop—and registered a 69 for the third round. This gave him six points and kept him in the thick of contention.

Following the two pace setters were apple-cheeked Doug Ford, from Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., with 15 plus points; defending champion Cary Middlecoff, with 13 plus, and Earl Stewart Jr., the bespectacled young Texan, with plus 11.

Stewart shot a two-under-par 68 which kept Snead from fattening his point total in the afternoon.

Middlecoff, the tall Tennessee dentist, took all prizes for inconsistency. He picked up a bucketfull of points—18 to be exact—with a bristling 67 in the morning but fell back in the afternoon. At one stage he was minus 13 points but he rallied after a front side 39 to finish with a 72, which cost him only one minus point.

Par for the 6,648-yard Meadow Brook course is 35-35—70, and few took liberties with it today as the weather turned cold, cloudy and windy.

Only Middlecoff's 67 broke par in the morning. In the afternoon Snead and Stewart led with 68's. There were two 69's, by Bob Toski, the rope-thin winter tour sensation, and Demaret.

The standings: Sam Snead, 67-72-68—207 plus 33; Jimmy Demaret, 68-73-69—210 plus 24; Doug Ford, 68-72-71—211 plus 15; Cary Middlecoff, 69-67-72—208 plus 13; Earl Stewart Jr., 72-72-68—212 plus 11; Byron Nelson, 71-73-71—215 plus 7; Lloyd Mangrum, 71-71-69—211 plus 6; Jack Burke Jr., 67-70-74—211 plus 5; Bob Toski, 73-70-69—212 plus 5; Peter Thomson, 67-74-72—213 even; Gene Littler, 68-70-72—210 minus 2; Ted Krill, 70-76-70—216 minus 7; Marty Furgol, 74-72-75—221 minus 19; Walter Burkemo, 67-77-77—222 minus 29; Ed Oliver, 74-75-75—220 minus 29; Tommy Bolt, 73-72-75—220 minus 33.

TVA 'Perpetual Power' Nearing at Lake Chatuge

By BILL ALLEN

Culminating more than a decade of planning, the Tennessee Valley Authority Friday announced imminent completion of the upper Hiawassee River development program that will make Lake Chatuge near Hiawassee, Ga., a power-producing unit.

Included in the plan, designed for "absolute utilization" of the upper Hiawassee River, which flows from Georgia in Towns County, is the world's largest turbine-pump at Hiawassee Dam near Murphy, N.C.

WATER REUSED

The Hiawassee installation will return one and three-quarter million gallons of water per second back into the huge lake, 205 feet above, to be reused for power production.

Nothing on this scale has been attempted before anywhere in the world according to TVA engineers. The pump will be operated at night on "surplus" power generated at the Hiawassee installation.

During "peak load use hours" in the daytime, the same turbine will operate as a conventional turbine generator of 60,000 kilowatts.

CHATUGE'S NEW ROLE

Meanwhile, Lake Chatuge, between Hiawassee, Ga., and Hayesville, N.C., which has served until now as a reservoir for power-producing Hiawassee Dam at Murphy, will become "self-sustaining" and generate power of its own, maintaining a constant high level with an area of approximately 7,150 acres.

Chatuge, which is split between Georgia and North Carolina, about two-thirds and one-third, is the latest power development in the TVA system.

TVA "BRAINCHILD"

The upper Hiawassee River project is a sort of "special brainchild" of the best TVA engineers, who have long sought a way to "store up" surplus electricity generated in the huge system.

Chatuge would wipe out a portion of the deficiency of daytime power on the TVA system with its production.

Chatuge will begin producing electricity this year. The Hiawassee double purpose turbine will begin operation late this year or in 1955.

NIGHTLY CHANGE

The water that formerly was supplied to Murphy's Hiawassee Lake by Chatuge reservoir in drougnt periods, will be replaced by the new 80,000-horsepower 22-foot-in-diameter turbine every night from the water that has turned the huge Hiawassee generators.

The turbine, of course, receives its power from TVA lines and something close to perpetual motion is approached, according to engineers.

The unparalleled operation will save thousands of kilowatts a day, and prove that electricity can be "stored," according to TVA spokesmen. It could, in the opinion of many Tennessee Valley residents, change the approach to power generation and water conservation.

Soap Box Derby Clinic Slated Today

All boys interested in entering Atlanta's Soap Box Derby June 19 are invited to the second derby clinic at 10 a.m. Saturday at the City Auditorium.

Derby officials will give instructions for entering the race, and will answer questions about the derby.

So far 302 boys have registered for the derby.

Midway Homecoming

The annual Homecoming Day program at Midway Presbyterian Church, Decatur, will be held Sunday, beginning at 11 am., with a sermon by Dr. B. S. Hodges, associate secretary of the Presbyterian General Council.

EVENTS IN CHURCHES OF ATLANTA AREA

Episcopalians Set Social Relations Meet Here

By LAURA BARRE

Episcopal social relations workers from the eight Southeastern states in the Church's Fourth Province will attend a conference on Christian Life and Work Monday and Tuesday at All Saints Episcopal Church.

Those to attend the conference will include members of the provincial and the several diocesan departments of Christian Social Relations.

Highlight of the two-day meeting will be an address on "The Church and Economic Life" at 8 p.m. Monday by Dr. Almon R. Pepper of New York, director of the Church's National Department of Christian Social Relations.

The Rt. Rev. C. Alfred Cole of Columbia, S.C., bishop of upper South Carolina, is conference chairman. Others to take part in the program include the Rt. Rev. William R. Moody, Lexington, Ky.; the Rt. Rev. Richard H. Baker, Greensboro, N.C.; the Rev. John C. Tanner, Birmingham, Ala.; the Rev. J. W. Kennedy, Lexington, Ky.; the Rev. T. Stuart Matthews of Macon; Gen. L. Kemper Williams, New Orleans; Dr. L. H. Foster, Tuskegee, Ala.; Hodding Carter, Greenville, Miss., and Mrs. Henry W. Havens, Jacksonville, Florida.

The conference will open with a meeting at 5 p.m. Monday, and will last through Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday's sessions will begin with a service of Holy Communion at 8 a.m., with Bishop Cole as celebrant.

The conference is open to all workers in the field of Christian social relations.

Episcopal Anniversary

Members of the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany will observe the church's 56th anniversay Sunday. A social hour will be held after the 11 a.m. morning prayer service, and the members of the Evening Guild, Woman's Auxiliary, will sponsor a tea for church members from 4 to 6 p.m.

A history of the church from 1898 to the present will be available to those who attend the observances. Entitled "A Light Unto Our Path," the history was written by T. G. Mundy Jr., church vestryman. It is dedicated to Mrs. R. K. Smith, wife of the first rector of Epiphany Church. Proceeds from the sale of the history will go to the church building fund.

East Point Revival

The Rev. Edgar A. Padgett, pastor of Sardis Methodist Church, will conduct revival services at the East Point Avenue Methodist Church Sunday through May 23. Services will be held at 8 p.m. daily except Saturday, May 22, when no service is scheduled.

McDonald To Speak

Travis McDonald, one of the missionaries directly supported by the Baptist Tabernacle, will speak to the Tabernacle congregation at 10:50 a.m. Sunday on his work in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Travis McDonald

A native of Douglas and a graduate of Toccoa Falls Institute, McDonald has done missionary work in villages where it is said no white man had ever been before. He has been in the mission field four years.

Mrs. Pittard to N. J.

Mrs. Barbara Pittard of Decatur, director of adult work for the North Georgia Conference of the Methodist Church, will be a leader at a conference of young adults and adult workers of the New Jersey Methodist Conference at Ocean City, N.J., May 28-30.

Mrs. Pittard will lead discussions on ways of improving the church's ministry to adults and the special problems of the aged in relation to the church. She also will summarize these discussions for the convocation.

A graduate student at Emory University, Mrs. Pittard received her B. A. degree from Oglethorpe University. She is a member of the National Gerontological Society.

During the late summer and fall, Mrs. Pittard will direct three adult conferences in Georgia. The first will be held at Young Harris College Aug. 20-22 for Methodists over 65. The second will be a workship for young adults at Camp Glisson, Dahlonega, Sept. 3-6, and the third will be an adult teachers meeting at Camp Glisson Sept. 24-26.

Wee Kirk Birthday

Members of Wee Kirk Presbyterian Church will celebrate their church's seventh anniversary Sunday. Dr. Cecil Thompson, professor in the Rural Church Department at Columbia Theological Seminary, will preach at 11 a.m.

Dinner on the grounds will follow the morning service and at 2:30 p.m. Dr. Franklin C. Talmage, historian of Atlanta Presbytery, will preach. A history of the church will be read and special music will be provided by the Marksman Quartet at the afternoon service.

The Rev. Raymond J. Ball is pastor of the church.

Student to Speak

Ron Carter, a student at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., will speak at 10:45 a.m. Sunday at the First Church of the Nazarene. The Ambassadors Quartet from the college will provide music for the service. Members of the quartet are Carter, Keith Brown, J. H. Crouse and Roland Felts.

The quartet also will sing at the Sunday School meeting at 9:45 a.m.

Grady Baccalaureate

Members of Henry Grady High School's graduating class will be guests of Westminster Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. Sunday when Dr. John R. Richardson, Westminster pastor, will preach their baccalaureate sermon.

A program of organ music will preceed the service at 7:30 p.m.

Priesthood Service

A special service based on the theme, "Happiness through Service in the Priesthood," will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Atlanta Second Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Allene and Erin Avenues, SW.

The program is designed to encourage boys of the congregation from 12 to 21 to take part in the affairs of the church.

Members on the program include Jessie Shirley, Lloyd Shirley, Jackie Barfield, Merrill Barfield, Billy Barnes, Harold Barnes, Donald Gibson, Elder Talley H. Shirley and Elder C. Presh Yarn.

Bishop To Preside

Bishop Arthur J. Moore will preside at the 89th annual meeting of the South Georgia Methodist Conference, at Epworth-by-the-Sea, St. Simons Island, June 7-11.

Bishop Moore

Speakers at the conference will include Dr. Mack Stokes of Emory University; Dr. Rockwell Smith of Evanston, Ill., Dr. Edward McLellan of London, England and Dr. Glenn Mingledorff of Nashville, Tenn.

Little League Guests

Some 125 members of the Buckhead Little League Baseball organization, their sponsors, directors and officers will be special guests at the 11 a.m. service at Sardis Methodist Church Sunday.

W. H. (Tubby) Walton, widely-known baseball figure will speak at the service.

The Rev. Edgar A. Padgett, Sardis pastor, is chaplain of the league. The recognition service is an annual event at the church. The league's 1954 season begins Monday.

Garven Heads Men

Finley Garwin has been named president of the new Methodist Men's organization at Northside Methodist Church. E. F. Livsey is secretary.

Dr. McCain Selected

Dr. James Ross McCain of Decatur, president emeritus of Agnes Scott College, has been selected to represent the Presbyterian (Southern) as a fraternal delegate to the General Synod of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church which meets at Flat Rock, N.C., June 3.

Dr. J. R. McCain

The appointment was announced by Dr. E. C. Scott, stated clerk of the General Assembly of the southern church.

Dr. McCain is a former moderator of the General Assembly. He was the founder and for 10 years the principal of Darlington School for Boys, Rome. He retired as president of Agnes Scott in 1951.

Forum on Home

A forum on "Your Home Can be Christian" will be held at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday at Trinity Methodist Church. Panel members will include a school teacher, a parent, a worker from the Fulton County Juvenile Court and a minister.

The discussion will follow the church's regular Wednesday evening supper, served at 6:30 p.m. Motion pictures will be provided for small children.

Beth Jacobs Installs

Newly elected officers of the Beth Jacob Sisterhood will be installed at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Synagogue, 562 Boulevard, NE.

They are Mrs. Morris Silver, president; Mrs. Julius Perlinski, Mrs. Joseph Goldwasser and Mrs. Louis Taffel, vice presidents; Mrs. David Katz, recording secretary; Mrs. Asher Edelstein, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Braunstein, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Seymour Pousner, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. Louis Goldstein, financial secretary; Mrs. Carl Shuman, assistant financial secretary, Mrs. Louis Simmons, treasurer; Mrs. Isadore Finoroff, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Michael Harris, parliamentarian; Mrs. Morris Ween, advisor, and Mrs. Max Cohen, historian.

They will be installed by Rabbi Emanuel Feldman. A program and social hour will follow the ceremony.

Cooper St. Revival

The Rev. Whitt Aiken, pastor of Confederate Avenue Baptist Church, is conducting revival services at Cooper Street (SW) Baptist Church at 8 p.m. nightly through May 21. Floyd Tumlin of North Atlanta Baptist Church, is song leader for the services.

Special services for children are being held during the revival, beginning at 7:30 p.m. nightly.

Rural Meet Set Annually By Baptists

Messengers to the first Southern Baptist Rural Church Conference, which ended a four-day meeting at Decatur First Baptist Church Friday, voted to make the conference an annual event in the denomination's long-range program to strengthen rural churches.

The messengers voted to hold the 1955 conference at Ridgecrest, N.C., June 16-22.

Seven church leaders were named to a committee which will administer a five-year program that is a part of the long-range program.

Chester Quarles, executive secretary of the Mississippi Baptist Convention, was named chairman of the committee. Other members are Sam Scantlan, superintendent of missions in Oklahoma; Carl Clark, superintendent of missions, El Dorado, Ark.; Ray McCullough, North Carolina rural pastor; J. P. Edmunds of the Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn.; T. B. Maston, Fort Worth, Tex., and S. F. Dowis of the Baptist Home Mission Board, Atlanta.

Goals of the five-year program are to increase the number of rural churches having all the active church organizations to 5,000; increase by 50 per cent the number of full-time rural churches and the number of rural churches which operate on annual budgets; constitute of re-activate at least 1,250 rural churches; and to have every association ministered to by a missionary.

An estimated 1,000 rural pastors, associational missionaries and laymen from 16 states attended the conference at Decatur First Church.

Fillmore's Talk To Dedicate Unity Church

Lowell Fillmore, president of the Unity School of Christianity, Lee's Summit, Mo., and the eldest son of the founder of the Unity worldwide movement, will deliver the address when Atlanta's Unity Church of Christianity is dedicated at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Lowell Fillmore

The church, located at 365 Ponce de Leon Ave., NE, is affiliated with the Missouri organization.

Fillmore also will address the Unity congregation at 7:45 p.m. Sunday.

Turpin Heads Presbyterian Officers Assn.

Raymond Turpin was elected president of the Presbyterian Officers Assn. of Greater Atlanta at a meeting held Friday night at Mount Vernon Presbyterian Church, Sandy Springs.

Other new officers are Alex P. Gaines, executive vice president; Edward C. Hammond, secretary-treasurer, and the following regional vice presidents:

Plato Rhyne, Lehman Brantley, Calvin Hays, O. Hoyt King, B. R. Nix and W. P. Wright Jr.

The association is composed of the deacons and elders of the churches in Atlanta Presbytery.

The association is working to establish, or help establish through financial assistance, 10 new Presbyterian churches in the Atlanta area. The Mount Vernon Church was the first to be aided under the plan.

Encouragement Spurs Reducing

By IDA JEAN KAIN

What one factor more than any other can insure the success of a reducing program? It's just this—believing you can do it. Once you firmly believe you can banish the burden of excess pounds, you won't stop short of action.

I find that words of encouragement from other reducers helps more than anything else to bolster your own convictions. So here are two morale boosting letters:

"I'm planning my summer wardrobe now, and can include lots of things that I wouldn't have dared to be seen in the last few years

FAMILY PROUD

"To begin with, I am 47 years old, 5' 2" tall. In October, 1953, I weighed 160 pounds and wore size 18½. Today, I weigh 124 pounds—and have never felt better or happier in my life. I wear a size 14, and in some styles a size 12. I've even changed to a more becoming hair style to go with my new figure.

"My family, especially my husband, are so proud of me. When they saw that I was earnestly trying to reduce, they all pitched in and tried to help me.

"It's really lots of fun planning slimming meals and, by using a little imagination, I've discovered so many things to make that taste so good but are low in calories.

"Thank you for all the help you have given me. I hope that other 5' 2" overweights will take your advice and start at the very next meal. Be sure and write an article every little while for us 'new shapes' to keep us on our toes and staying that way."

Now there is a woman who knew she could do it—and she did. Congratulations!

In the same mail came an inspiring note from another 5' 2" reducer.

"About a year ago, my doctor told me to go on a diet, but I just couldn't seem to get started. However, one day my neighbor and I both started together. I weighed 198 pounds, bust 42, dress 22½, hips 42, waist 35. Today I weigh 150 pounds, my dress size is 16, bust 35, waist 30. I am 5' 2" tall.

LOOKS YOUNGER

"After losing all that weight I feel better and really look younger. I receive many compliments from everyone, including my husband. My doctor was glad, and he now wants me to lose about 10 or 15 pounds more.

"I used to eat a lot of sweets, but now when I want candy, I'll eat some licorice, which isn't high in calories, and take only one piece. When I go to a PTA meeting and they serve pie, cake or cream puffs, I have only a cup of coffee. And I don't miss sweets at all. Once a person really sets her mind to losing weight, it is easy to stay away from fattening foods."

Mary Haworth

Married Man Yearns For First Sweetheart

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In high school I met a girl my own age and fell head over heels in love with her. We had an affair for nearly five years and I wanted to marry her; but she wouldn't marry me. She said she had lots of time for marriage; and wanted to get around and have fun.

At the age of 21 I was working 70 hours a week on a steady job, and had an extra job on the side, so I wasn't very successful at showing her a good time. Finally she wouldn't even go out with me, although she wasn't in love with anyone else.

A year later I married Ruth. That was 14 years ago. We have two wonderful children. We get along very well. We both work and all we do is done as a family. We love each other and are happy. There is only one thing that bothers me.

I haven't seen Nancy (the first girl) in over 10 years; but it seems that once or twice a year I have a dream in which we are together and I talk in my sleep. What happens if I start ranting and my wife hears me? We have always been faithful to each other, and I don't want to hurt her by talking foolishly in my sleep and maybe putting doubts in her mind. I have never talked of this to anyone. E. B.

DEAR E. B.: In finally relinquishing the idea of marrying Nancy, you tried to persuade yourself that you no longer loved her. This was your understandably self-protective reaction to the stabbing fact that she didn't love or want you, after some years of intimacy.

But in dreams your desperate unhappiness of that time still reverberates, and your emotional wounds still bleed.

Significantly, you feel guilty about these disturbed dreams. This self-reproach implies that in the dreams you are not only reliving the past, but also acting out a present wish that you might substitute Nancy for Ruth.

Calvin S. Hall, professor of psychology at Western Reserve University, has done comprehensive research on the subject of dreams, and reports his findings in a book "The Meaning of Dreams" (Harper & Brothers). He sums up Chapter 2, titled "What We Dream About," by saying—"we dream about people who are associated in some way with our personal conflicts."

He suggests it may be well to start paying attention to one's dreams—not to a single dream, but to a series jotted down over a period of months—as an approach to better understanding of oneself. Perhaps this book will be helpful to you. M. H.

OUCH!

He ties a bib around your neck
And hangs a drain pipe on your chin,
And though you a nervous wreck,
Somehow you manage a weak grin.
He stuffs your mouth with wads of cotton
Until you're sure that you will choke,
And though he knows you're feeling rotten,
He starts to tell the latest joke.
And when he has you gagged and bound,
He drills and digs and peers and squirts;
And though you can not make a sound,
He keeps on asking if it hurts?

'Little Alex' To Return

By JEAN ROONEY

Georgia's "Little Alex" will soon return to the State Capitol.

A marble, bigger-than-life size bust of Alexander Hamilton Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy and long-time Georgia legislator, will be unveiled in the Capitol rotunda at 3 p.m. Friday, May 28.

The General Assembly of Georgia and Georgia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, are responsible for purchase of the impressive work of art, according to Capitol spokesmen.

Ben Fortson, secretary of state, reported that the State Legislature resolved to purchase the bust last fall, on the suggestion of UDC leaders.

Bryant Baker, well-known New York sculptor, was commissioned to execute the likeness of Stephens, Mr. Fortson explained.

A GOOD RACKET is this ticket selling, according to these two men leaders as they buy their tennis tournament tickets from Mrs. Thomas Morgan who offers them on her favorite racket. Center is James C. Malone and right is Arnold Mitchell who were the first to obtain tickets for the Southern Tennis championship tournament set for June 14-29. Members of the Junior Committee of the Symphony Guild are sponsoring the sales with Mrs. Morgan as chairman.

Teen-Type

Students To Vie for Trophy

By DOTTY LUNDY

A handsome trophy is at home at Russell High for at least one more week since rain called the second annual Sports Day yesterday for Russell, Campbell, College Park and Hapeville high schools.

Weather permitting, the girls will vie for the trophy next Friday. Batters and table tennis nets will be up at 9:30 at College Park for a day of play for the 60 athletes chosen to represent each school. Boys from the four schools will compete at Hapeville.

The award, which is kept by the winning school for a year, remains with a three time winner. Eighth graders will compete in volleyball, track and field events. Upperclassmen will play softball, shuffleboard, table tennis, horseshoes, badminton, track and field sports. School with the most points gets the cup. A picnic lunch at 1:30 will be followed by presentation of awards.

RIVERSIDE DANCE

Sixteen teenagers from Atlanta will board a pleasure cruiser for the "Isle of Paradise" tonight at Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville. The cruiser will be shipshape for an evening or dancing at the Riverside gymnasium, scene of the school's annual spring ball.

They are Jane Brannen, Cynthia Britton, Diane Danneman, Carol Dunn, Helen Eberstein, Susie Fine, Elaine Gilner, Sonia Googe, Deborah Knox, Jackie Lanum, Billie McNeil, Evelyn Podhauser, Sandra Ronin, Val Vaccaro, Sydney Zimmerman, and Sarah Kate Killian, who will be dates of the cadets.

The Clemson "Jungaleers" will provide music for the dance.

Marion Whitman, senior at Christ the King, was named most valuable member of the Atlanta Teen Council at the annual banquet this week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Whitman, 185 Eureka Dr., NE. Representing the Peachtree Hills Recreation Center on this city-wide council of the Atlanta Parks and Recreation Department, Marion has served as president of the group this year. She was awarded a medal by Miss Virginia Carmichael, director of recreation for Atlanta. The council is composed of two representatives from each teen club.

Other officers are Ellen Howard, Grove Park, vice president; Jane Setzer, Adamsville, secretary-treasurer; Garnett Dale, Grove Park, publicity chairman, and Jerry Couch, Knight Park, social chairman.

BEAUX ARTS ROYALTY

John Doe and Mary Joe were crowned king and queen of Northside at the festive Beaux Arts Ball last night sponsored by the Reb club. The two will reign as first copresidents of the student body.

Perry Jones, president, accepted a loving cup for the Brown High Y-Teens at the spring banquet this week. Her club had the best potato chip salesmen for the year. Runner-up was Murphy and Sylvan Hills club came in third. Miss Lois Robeson sponsors the Brown Y-Teens. Thirty-five girls won silver bracelets with Y-Teen emblems for selling 100 bags of spuds. Entertainment at the banquet followed the coming centennial year theme. Club members presented a skit depicting the beginning of the Y over a ladies' sewing circle meeting 99 years ago and followed its progress through the years.

A new audience participation teen show emceed by Ray McKay, will begin on a local television station Monday from 4:30 to 5 p.m. The high school audience will dance before the cameras.

FIVE FIRST prizes in five art contests is the record of Eric Hendricks, who graduates from Joe Brown High Tuesday night. Eric recently submitted the winning design for the Atlanta Symphony Young People's Concert brochure in a contest sponsored by the Symphony Guild Art Committee. His painting was "The Enthusiast," inspired by Rimsky-Korsakov's "Flight of the Bumble Bee." Classmate Marcia Whitworth looks at water colors such as those that won Eric a scholarship to the University of Georgia next fall.

Star Legion To Meet On Sunday

The postponed meeting of Service Star Legion, due to Mother's Day, will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, 699 Piedmont Ave., at 2:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Mrs. John F. MacDougald, registrar and Mrs. F. B. Davenport, parliamentarian, will be assistant hostesses for the social half-hour.

Mrs. Edna M. Phillips, regional director of the South, of Central, S.C., and Mrs. Eugene Dyar of the Franklin County Chapter, of Carnesville, Ga., will be honor guests.

A handsome urn, donated by Normal A. White, will be installed at Pershing Point, on the base of the original "sun dial," placed there when the Point was completed by Service Star Legion in 1920. Mrs. Norman A. White is chairman of the Pershing Point project.

Auto License Number 'Tags' Radio Operator

By YOLANDE GWIN

Everyone who knows Miss Louise Cramer of 600 Peachtree Battle Ave., knows why her automobile license number is W4ZDL.

This is the story for those who don't know and who might wonder when she passes them in traffic here or maybe on the highway—like this weekend during her trip to Highlands, N.C.

Miss Cramer is an amateur radio operator (she's also secretary of the Atlanta Radio Club). Georgia was one of the first states in the nation allowing persons to use their call letters as their automobile license tags and Miss Cramer was among the first to have one.

This is her W4ZDL means: W is the call letter for the United States; the 4 indicates the district number in the U.S. and the ZDL is Miss Cramer's number.

ON OWN TIME

All this interest in radio and the hours she spends beside her transmitter and her receiver set, is something the Atlantan picked up on her own time, so to speak.

It was some time after she attended Smith College along with the GWTW author, Margaret Mitchell, and Mrs. Franklin Davis, the former Mamie Powers, both of Atlanta. It was also some time after she returned to Atlanta, entered social work and later received a master of science degree from Columbia University.

When her young cousin, Henry Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Howell, decided to be a ham radio operator, he had to learn the Morse code. In helping him, Miss Cramer became interested herself. She too learned the code and the two began to practice together. Both finished the course at the same time, and now Miss Cramer is one of a mere half dozen or so women who hold membership in the Atlanta Radio Club.

LEARNED NORWEGIAN

Miss Cramer is getting used to being honored — and being an officer of this predominately masculine group is certainly a deserving recognition. She "prepped" for Smith College at the old Girls' High School where she was awarded the first French medal ever presented by the Alliance Francais.

She has learned Norwegian—trips to Norway have prompted this and she thinks nothing of mentioning to friends that "I talked with some friends in Oslo on my radio last night."

Here's another insight into Miss Cramer's inquiring and knowledge-thirsty mind. When she finished Smith College where she studied economics and sociology, she came back to Atlanta and began on a full-time basis.

MISS JEAN ACREE

Miss Acree, daughter of Mrs. B. R. Richards, will wed Frank Allen Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Waters, at the McKendree Methodist Church on June 20. She is employed by Air - Way Branches, Inc. Mr. Waters served three years in the armed forces, and is now employed by Montag Brothers, Inc. The couple will honeymoon in Kentucky and West Virginia.

Atlantans To Attend National Meetings

Two Atlantans are scheduled to share the spotlight in Middle Western sections of the nation this season.

First to be honored is Mrs. Howard Smith who leaves Saturday for Milwaukee to attend the National Catholic Music Educators Assn. She will officially represent the Atlanta-Savannah diocese. This talented musician heads the music departments of the parochial schools in this area and is a past president of the Atlanta Music Club and the Woman's Committee of the Atlanta Symphony Guild.

Next in line is Mrs. Lon Grove, who has been invited to represent the Women's Committee at the National Women's American Symphony Orchestra League Assn. in Springfield, Ohio, in too, is a past president of the Women's Committee and is now a member of the board of directors.

SEVERAL ATLANTANS are in Chattanooga to attend the marriage of Norma Raoul and Warren Clark, which takes place Saturday evening at the Lookout Mountain Presbyterian Church.

1924 LOOK—Mrs. Fred E. Nunnally, seated, gets a pompadour like grandmother used to wear at the hands of Mrs. L. D. Hagin, clad in a frock from her mother's wardrobe of 30 years ago. Appearing in a skit given by the Alpha Gamma Delta fraternity at its International Reunion Day luncheon, the duo represented the decade from 1924 to 1934.

They are Mrs. Harry L. Green, Vicky Green and Mrs. Robert Ball Allien. The wedding will be followed by a reception at the Read House.

WHEN THE S.S. ANDREA DORIA leaves New York Saturday, among the passengers will be Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Allen, who will tour Italy.

ANOTHER EUROPEAN traveler calling Atlanta home is Miss Mary K. Hunt, who returned on the Queen Mary from a spring vacation on the continent.

MR. AND MRS. MICKEY HANEY of Ontario, Calif., and their daughters Carol and Joan, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. M. H. Haney at 756 Bonnie Brae Ave., and his aunt, Mrs. Carl Phillips, at 849 Beecher St.

MR. AND MRS. RIC MURRAY, who have been spending the winter in Nassau, are guests for a week of Mr. and Mrs. McGee at their home at 608 Lakeshore Dr., en route to their home in Chicago.

INVITATIONS HAVE BEEN ISSUED by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Hart to the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Ava, to Osceola Kirby Sheffield Jr., which will take place on Saturday, June 5, at 5 p.m., at St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

MARILYN KAY GARDNER, 6-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Gardner and her cousin, Paul Bryant Gardner, 6-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gardner Jr., were christened Sunday, May 9. The ceremony was performed at St. Paul Methodist Church by the Rev. Claude Hendrick.

DAILY GUIDE—A rather tense weekend starts off dully perhaps with extra duties to perform. Some discipline can be expected and possibly delays. It may be particularly depressing for those born during the last week of April or the last week of October. The most constructive way to work it out is to concentrate and stick to the conventions and observe all the rules. Maybe that won't be too much fun, but it will save a lot of disappointment.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, TAURUS! If you have worked up some bright ideas lately, hold onto them, as you will have a chance to express or use them during the next few months, possibly starting next week. Unusual people, new situations, travel, study or change in your everyday environment could prove very stimulating this Summer, but in October be careful that you don't over-extend yourself. Some fundamental change can be taking place in your home or domestic conditions and this continues for some time. Opposition can be expected this year from a partner, mate, or competitor.

Davis Hits Complacency, Asks Party Co-operation

In these times of world danger Americans must have an attitude of unity and cooperation, Rep. James C. Davis, Fifth District congressman, told the Atlanta Lions Club Friday.

The club, meeting at the Dinkler Plaza Hotel, nominated Cecil Hester, without opposition, as its next president. Other officer unopposed for election include:

Rep. Davis

Cecil Hester

Haywood Graham Jr., D. C. Jackson Jr. and James Longino, vice presidents; R. J. Sheppard, secretary, and E. M. Turlington, treasurer.

Davis said conditions call for bipartisan cooperation in Congress on both the foreign and home fronts.

On both fronts, Davis said, this country faces the problem of complacency among its citizens and a lowering of moral stamina caused by luxurious living.

The congressman said America must exert efforts to establish cooperation among the free nations of Asia as it did in Europe with NATO. America is not strong enough to police the world alone, he declared.

He said he believes there are sufficient anti-Communist troops in Indochina to handle the situation there, without America sending troops. He favored the United States furnishing materials as long as the French forces show the will to fight.

Writers Display To Preview June Meet

The Georgia Writers Assn. is offering Atlanta a peek over its shoulder in a colorful display pointing up its annual conference to be held here at the Atlanta Woman's Club June 17-18.

The display catalogues the organization's five previous meetings in photographs, book jackets, citations and copies of programs. It is set up on the sixth floor of Davison-Paxon Co.

Griffin Asks Program for Farm Roads

Constitution State News Service

LITHIA SPRINGS, May 14—Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin proposed here Friday the creation of a State Rural Road Authority to finance large-scale construction of farm-to-market roads.

Speaking at a barbecue in his honor, Griffin praised the benefits from Georgia's rural electrification program, and added:

"The next major undertaking in behalf of our farm families should be greatly increased construction of good hard-surfaced roads from farm to market which will be usable in our lifetimes."

Griffin, who disclosed he would qualify May 25 as a candidate for governor, declared that "for 50 years Georgia politicians have been talking about the need for a better farm-to-market roads. At the relatively meager rate we're now spending for such roads, it will take another 50 years to realize any appreciable improvement in them."

On Saturday afternoon, Griffin will be guest of honor at a gathering of north Georgians in Banks County with Willis Harden as host.

MGill To Address B'nai B'rith Parley

Big Air Show At Dobbins Starts at 10

One of the biggest aeronautical shows ever to be staged in Georgia will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday at Dobbins Air Force Base and the Lockheed Marietta aircraft plant as the two organizations jointly celebrate Armed Forces Day.

A day-long open house will be held, with the public invited to tour the aircraft plant, watch air shows, and view a mock air-ground battle starting at 4:40 p.m.

Visitors from "as far away as Kentucky" are expected to attend, officials reported. Topping a week-long tribute to the nation's military services, the Saturday show will spotlight Georgia's contribution to America's "air power for peace."

Lockheed will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Free parking in the plant's 7,000-car area will be provided. Cameras will not be permitted in the industrial area. It is requested that children be accompanied by adults.

Dive bombers from the Atlanta Naval Air Station and Air Force fighters will participate in the afternoon mock battle. Paradrops and strafing and bombing runs will be made. Thousands of rounds of blank ammunition will be fired.

Spectacular low-level flights by three Marietta-made B-47s are scheduled for 3:45 p.m. At 5 p.m. Miss Sally Webb, the "Miss Marietta High" beauty queen, will christen a new T-33 jet, made by Lockheed in California, as the "City of Marietta."

A Rhyme a Day

"Following the sudden passing of Horbowitz, who was the fourth husband of the woman, investigators found she had recently insured him for $15,000."—News item.

There are some men who marry who haven't a ghost . . . of a chance, they keep running from "pillar to post." . . . I once knew a fellow whose luck was so bad . . . he never could hold any woman he had. . . . He solemnly swore that his mother-in-law . . . had a backbone of steel and a ball-bearing jaw . . . his wife criticized him . . . his kids were unkind . . . and sometimes he felt he was losing his mind.

He got a divorce and it wasn't too long . . . till he married again, and again he was wrong . . . he acted the same and the same things occurred . . . then, she upped and left him, he married the third . . . it seems he had spent the best part of his life . . . in chasing and getting and losing a wife . . . the way he was treated, he said, was a shame . . . and some other person was always to blame.

A man that's so stubborn and so hard to please . . . must sure be the victim of some bad disease . . . but some we have heard of were finally cured . . . by some woman who had them completely insured.

Sellers Confident on Saulk Polio Test

Dr. T. F. Sellers, director of the Georgia Department of Public Health, said Friday he is "very hopeful and very confident" that the nationwide tests of the Salk polio vaccine will be successful.

Addressing the Atlanta Veterans Luncheon Club, Dr. Sellers said:

"I think the vaccine is a good one. . . . Some improvements may be needed, but I think the scientists are on the right track in their search for a device that will wipe out polio!"

Dr. Sellers said a report on the effectiveness of the vaccine will be made in 1955—and if it is favorable, the vaccine probably will be available to all.

Stone & Webster Officials Back Gas Light's Rate Plea

Two vice presidents of Stone and Webster, a management advisory firm, Friday back the Atlanta Gas Light Co.'s appeal before the State Public Service Commission for a $2,030,000 annual rate increase.

Paul Taylor and Harold M. Olsen, the S&W officials, were placed on the stand by the company in the second day of public hearings on the appeal.

Taylor testified that the company is economically managed and well operated, and Olsen said the company is not earning as much on a percentage basis as similar firms. He declared that the dividend rate is now the same as in 1947, whereas other firms studied have shown, in many instances, sharp increases.

Meanwhile, PSC Chairman Matt L. McWhorter announced there will be no cross-examination of company witnesses at this time. When the company completes its presentation of evidence, McWhorter said, the hearings will be adjourned until July.

Missionary Evacuation Plan Is Told

CHICAGO, May 14 (INS)—A plan to evacuate 100 U.S. Missionaries and their children from Indochina, where their congregations have vanished behind the bamboo curtain, was disclosed today.

The Rev. Louis L. King of New York told the 57th annual convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Chicago that "the proposed evacuation would be by airplane." But he added:

"Our missionaries have their instructions to remain in Indochina as long as possible—that means until they are ordered from the country by the American ambassador at Saigon."

Market Bounces To Another Peak

Gets Big Boost From Oils In Surging 1 to 3 Points

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—The stock market rolled ahead in a recovery movement today that sent it up to another high mark. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks made a moderate gain of 70 cents and closed at $124, a new high for the year and the best level for the average since April 17, 1930.

New highs for the past 24 years have been a regular occurrence for the average in recent weeks. The previous high was set last Monday, 30 cents under today's level.

Just about all areas had a hand in the rise which went to between 1 and 3 points at the best. Losses were scattered, and at the most went to around a point.

The railroads acted well, and the list got a big boost from the oils. Also higher on balance were the steels, motors, tobaccos, chemicals, airlines, building materials, and utilities.

Some backwardness was displayed by the rubbers, aircrafts, electrical equipments, and the coppers. None was severely depressed.

The market had a quietly higher start and continued on ahead into the afternoon when it got an additional boost by renewed buying in several sections.

The industrial component of the average was up $1.40 at a new high of $169.00. The rails were ahead 50 cents, and utilities were up 10 cents.

The list with 1,183 individual issues traded contained 25 less than yesterday. There were 577 issues higher and 318 lower. During the day, 106 issues attained new highs and 7 hit new lows.

Volume came to 1,970,000 shares. That compares with 2,340,000 shares traded yesterday.

Wheat, Rye Miss Selloff

CHICAGO, May 14 (AP)—A little selloff late in the session left grains with a mixed pattern at the close on the Board of Trade today. Until the last-minute splurge of selling the market had been doing very well. At one time May soybeans were up 9⅛ cents. It was in the old crop soybeans, however, that selling at the finish was heaviest. All their early gains were wiped out. Wheat and rye resisted the late selling, as did May oats.

Dry Goods

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—The cotton textile market was less active than the pace of earlier this week. Some converters continued to buy print cloths and broadclothes for the second half of the year. Prices were firm, wi thhe 38½ 64x60 3.35 yards print cloths up ¼ cent at 13¾ cents a yard. Producers of tobacco cloth reported fairly good sales. On the other hand sheetings were dull. Mills noted that practically none of the heavier type of goods have participated in the surge of buying.

In wool goods fall orders for woolens and worsteds were small, all mills undertook preparations for spring lines and showings.

Rayon goods were dull, with seasonal influences holding the market in check.

GEORGIA BUSINESS

Atlanta Need High In 3 Professions

By JIM MONTGOMERY

Metropolitan Atlanta should provide ripe opportunities for medical doctors, osteopaths and chiropractors seeking to establish their practice.

But if you're just entering the field of accounting, architecture or insurance, it might be wise to look elsewhere for an opening.

At least that's what an occupation reference guide just published by the national office of the B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau indicates.

It says the Atlanta area is under-represented in three professional job fields. It has, for instance, only one medical doctor for every 1,960 persons, while the nation as a whole has one for every 780 persons.

Similarly, there is but one osteopath for 100,000 residents of Metropolitan Atlanta, while the U.S. has one for every 33,200 inhabitants. And although this area has one chiropractor for every 25,000 residents, the nation has one for every 11,200 persons.

On the other hand, such fields as accounting, architecture and insurance are over-represented here in comparison with other cities and areas, the guide maintains.

It says the Atlanta area has almost one and a half times the proportion of accountants and auditors as the rest of the country, and twice the proportion of architects and insurance agents.

However, Metropolitan Atlanta closely parallels the national average in the fields of optometry, pharmacy, occupational and physical therapy and veterinary medicine.

For every 10,000 residents here there are seven pharmacists, one veterinarian, one therapist and one optometrist.

C. of G. Railroad Still Eyed by Frisco

The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway still has its eye on the Central of Georgia Railroad. Frisco President Clark Hungerford told the annual stockholders' meeting in St. Louis this week that "when the time and price are right, we may be interested." So far, he said, the Frisco hasn't acquired any Central of Georgia stock. Patrick B. McGinnis, one-time board chairman of the Central, offered stock in the Georgia line earlier this year, but Frisco officials turned it down because "the price was too high."

TV Automat Predicted

A 24-hour drug service made possible by automatic telephone, a supermarket with revolving tables, a department store where customers sit down and "shop" any department via television, and store hours beginning at noon and ending at 9 p.m. These and other radical procedures in marketing, based on automatization and electronics, were predicted by Atlantan Robert E. Schaefer at the third annual Marketing and Retailing Conference at Tallahassee this week. The speaker is research manager for Tucker Wayne & Co. and is also adjunct professor of marketing at the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia.

Sugar Futures

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—World sugar futures were about unchanged today, with trade houses operating on both sides of the market. World raws were quoted at about 3.32 cents a pound f.o.b. Cuba.

Domestic sugar futures were easy on liquidation as demand in the raw market declined further.

In the domestic raw market late Thursday a New York refiner bought 7,000 tons of Philippines due late May at 6.07 cents a pound delivered. Today another New York refiner bought 5,000 tons of Philippines for late May and early June arrival at 6.05 cents. This marked a total decline of five points in the past two days on the New York spot price.

Demand for refined was limited.

Domestic sugar futures No. 6 closed unchanged to 1 lower. Sales, 253 contracts.

Pipe Laying Readied At Ben Hill

By HERMAN HANCOCK

A $250,000 waterworks improvement for recently annexed Ben Hill areas will begin Monday, waterworks manager Paul Weir said Friday following completion of details under which Atlanta boug htan East Point water main in the area for $52,014.72.

Weir said all pipe for the 10 miles of main already has been bought an East Point water main main will be cut in on Atlanta's water supply Tuesday or Wednesday. Preliminary work, however, will be begun on the main laying program Monday, Weir emphasized.

Mayor Hartsfield, Mayor Al Robert, of West Point, Cy Young, president of the Ben Hill Civitan Club; Ezra Phillips, East Point City attorney, and Weir figured Friday for completion of the contract and payment of the money.

George Sparks, superintendent of East Point waterworks, praised the good relations which marked the transfer.

Landers Plans Trip

City Comptroller Earl Landers will leave Atlanta Tuesday to attend the annual convention of the Municipal Finance Officers' Assn. at San Francisco . . . Waterworks manager Paul Weir left Atlanta over the weekend for a vacation tour of the west. Weir's trip will be climaxed by attending the American Waterworks Assn. convention at Seattle, at which Sherman Russell, superintendent of filtration for Atlanta, will win a national award for achievement.

Vet Director Resigns for No. 2 Race

William K. (Billy) Barrett resigned Friday as state veterans service director, effective June 25, in order to qualify as a candidate for lieutenant governor in this summer's primary election.

After a brief executive session, the State Board of Veterans Service announced that no action would be taken on Barrett's resignation or appointment of his successor until the board's next meeting June 11 at Savannah.

Pete Wheeler, assistant director, is strongly regarded as the probable successor to Barrett and reportedly was the only man discussed in the executive session.

Chairman A. L. Henson said the board wants to "canvass the field," however, and "pick some one who will keep the ball rolling." He added that Wheeler "is a good man and a splendid administrator."

In submitting his resignation, Barrett said no man has a moral right to remain on the state payroll while a qualified candidate for public office. He also asked the board to incorporate in the records an April 6 letter in which he warned all his department employes against political activity during working hours.

HearingsHurt U.S. Abroad, Atlanta Told

Manner in which the McCarthy-Army hearings are being "dragged out" is certain to have "an adverse effect" on European thinking, a former high-ranking U. S. foreign service official declared here Friday.

"Methods used in our senatorial investigations are difficult for Europeans to understand," Eli Whitney Debevoise, New York attorney who served with the office of the U. S. High Commissioner for Germany for two years, declared.

"Europeans find it hard to believe that the U. S. senator whose name they read most frequently in the headlines does not actually mould our foreign policy!"

Debevoise, speaking to the Atlanta Lawyers Club Friday night, urged that citizens of this nation also "exercise patience and tolerance" in reading news reports from foreign countries. He pointed out that "because one political spokesman is quoted it does not necessary follow that the entire country echoes his views."

Former general counsel of the office of U. S. High Commissioner for Germany, Debevoise served at various periods as assistant U. S. High Commissioner and was negotiator in the preparation of conventions between the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany executed May 26, 1952.

Widow of Lineman Sues for $220,000

A $220,000 damage suit was filed Friday against the Georgia Power Co. by the widow of a 27-year-old telephone lineman electrocuted March 5.

The petition, filed for Mrs. L. C. Wasson by J. R. Goldthwaite Jr., attorney, charges that the power company had not securely spliced together two ends of a 6,900-volt electric wire.

The suit charges that the wire snapped and fell on a guy wire which Wasson was holding, sending a shock through his body which killed him instantly.

Mrs. Wasson lives at 145 Fourth Avenue, NE.

Bandit Here Gives Part of $160 Back; Second Takes Suit and Apologizes

Apologetic bandits, with big guns and gentle voices, picked up $164 and a suit of clothes in two separate robberies Friday.

Nick Sedires, employe in a liquor store at 22 Northside Dr., SW, told officers a Negro man approximately 25 years of age walked into the store, produced an automatic and said in apologetic tones: "I need money bad."

The bandit took approximately $160 from the cash register, Detectives R. A. Boone and O. L. Adams said, but at Sedires' insistence left the small bills and change.

Earlier, a Negro man ordered a suit in a clothing store at 335 Edgewood Ave., NE, then pulled a pistol on Mrs. Isabelle Rucker, a clerk. Police said he took the suit and $4 from the cash register and as he left remarked: "I hate to do this."

Credit Union Chief Is Named Embezzler

Embezzlement of $12,000 that went into purchase of a home and into living above his income was charged today to a 43-year-old Macon credit union official.

Wilson M. MacEwen was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Walter F. Doyle on charges of violating embezzlement provisions of the Federal Reserve Act. He was released to the custody of the U.S. Marshal in default of $5,000 bond.

H. O. Hawkins, special agent in charge of the Atlanta office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said MacEwen admitted embezzling approximately $12,000 from the Employes' Federal Credit Union maintained by personnel of the Macon division of the Georgia Power Co.

Hawkins said MacEwen reported he used part of the money in purchase of a home in Macon but was unable to account specifically for the remainder except to say that he used it in living above his income. He is married and the father of three children.

9 Women Brand Hose As Swindle

Nine angry businesswomen appeared in Fulton Civil Judge Quincy Arnold's courtroom Friday morning to confront a hosiery saleswoman they claimed sold them cheap pairs of nylons for $11.95 a dozen.

The women charged that Mrs. W. E. Hadden, who said she lives at 1206 DeKalb Ave., NE, visited the offices where they work and showed them "very high quality" hosiery.

They said she stuck pencils in the hose, scratched them and pulled them to show that they would not run easily.

The women said they ordered the hose from Mrs. Hadden, but received "cheap old stockings worth about 59 cents a pair."

Judge Arnold ordered Mrs. Hadden bound over to Fulton Criminal Court on a cheating and swindling charge. He set bond at $100.

FHA Loans Held at Peak Despite Probe

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, May 14 (AP)—The current Federal Housing Administration investigation has not diminished the flow of federally assisted home financing, Walter McAllister, chairman of the Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, said Friday.

McAllister met with the Georgia Savings and Loan League at its annual convention.

Talk that the FHA inquiry has diminished the volume of building loans and slowed building is either ill considered or made for a definite purpose, McAllister insisted. Both the FHA and the Veterans Administration loan divisions are operating at peak levels, he said.

H. H. McWhorter of Athens is president of the Georgia savings and loan organization. About 150 persons are attending the convention, which lasts through Saturday.

Open House Postponed

CITIZEN, DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK THAT NEARLY EVERY MAN OVER 18 YOU KNOW HAS WORN (OR SOON WILL) THE UNIFORM OF HIS COUNTRY'S ARMED FORCES?...
WE'VE HAD TO TAKE THE RIFLE DOWN FROM ABOVE THE FIREPLACE, MANY TIMES IN RECENT YEARS, BUT WE ARE STILL A NATION OF FOLKS WHO BELIEVE IN GOING BACK, AFTER DEFENDING OURSELVES, TO SOME USEFUL JOB MAKING OR GROWING THINGS FOR PEOPLE TO USE...
...IN THE PAST WE WERE INCLINED TO FORGET THE REGULARS IN ALL BRANCHES WHO KEEP THE GUNS WARM IN PEACETIME .....TODAY THERE IS NO REAL PEACE IN THE WORLD, SO WE ARE EVER AWARE OF THIS RAMPART OF PROFESSIONALS WHO ARE THE MUSCLES BENEATH THE KID GLOVES OF THE DIPLOMATS WHO REPRESENT US IN DEALINGS WITH OTHER COUNTRIES. THIS IS THE OFFICIAL ARMED FORCES DAY 1954, BUT IT IS JUST ANOTHER 24-HOUR ALERT FOR THE UNIFORMED TEAM THAT HOLDS YOUR DESTINY AT THE TIP OF A TRIGGER FINGER..

CONT'D.

THE PHANTOM

HOW COME I'VE NEVER SEEN YOU BEFORE, EVE? I WAS BORN AND BROUGHT UP IN THIS TOWN—BUT WHAT STAR DID YOU DROP FROM?
YOU JUST LOOKED IN THE WRONG SPOTS, JUNIOR. I'VE BEEN HERE.
AND I'M SUPPOSED TO HAVE TWENTY-TWENTY VISION...GETTING MEASURED FOR SPECS IN THE MORNING...UMMM... ALL THIS MOONLIGHT GOING TO WASTE...WE OUGHT TO BE HOLDING HANDS...
I NEED MY HANDS— BOTH OF 'EM—FOR COOKING!

JULIET JONES

MIND IF I LEAVE YOU, KID? GOT A BUSINESS ENGAGEMENT.
WITH HELENE?
YEAH, BEN... YOU LIKE HER, DON'T YOU?
JOHN CULLEN MURPHY 5-15
AS LONG AS SHE'S A FRIEND OF YOURS, SPIDER, SHE'S AUTOMATICALLY A FRIEND OF MINE...

BEN BOLT

MOTHERS, DO YOUR CHILDREN DISLIKE TAKING COUGH MEDICINE? THEY DO?
THEN WHY NOT TRY OUR NEWEST PRODUCT?
IT HAS THE FLAVOR OF COCONUT!
AAK!
CHARLIE BROWN CAN'T STAND COCONUT

HE SHOOTS AT TH' BUZZARDS ONCE IN A WHILE T'LET THEM KNOW HE'S ALIVE.
BAM!

KENNESAW

Mr. Wicker, please. You, Ambrose? I won't be down to the office today.
5-15
You shouldn't have done it, Walt..
Now she tells me!
No fool like an old fool!

BUT, MARSHA!..WHY NOT GO TALK TO THE JEWELER? ERIN COULD HAVE BEEN TELLING THE TRUTH!...MAYBE SHE DID BUY THE BRACELET HERSELF!
...AND HAD IT ENGRAVED "TO ERIN WITH LOVE"? I ONLY WISH I WERE FOOL ENOUGH TO BELIEVE THAT, MRS. WORTH!
MEANWHILE...
ERIN...YOU...
I KNOW, VIC! I CAUSED YOU A LOT OF BOTHER AT HOME BY THAT SILLY MIX-UP OVER THE BRACELET!
I PROBABLY SHOULDN'T SAY THIS, BUT ANY WIFE WHO IS SO INSANELY JEALOUS OF A SQUARE-SHOOTER LIKE YOU DOESN'T DESERVE HIM!

MARY WORTH

GOLLY, I DIDN'T KNOW THIS HOSE WAS SO HEAVY...
...OR I'D HAVE HAD 'EM DELIVER IT!!

EVEN VIBORA'S MACHINE GUN WAS NO MATCH FOR THOSE SAVAGES!
I WOULDN'T STAND A GHOST OF A CHANCE AGAINST THEM!
YE GADS! A GIANT SAVAGE IS COMING TOWARD VIBORA WITH A BIG MACHETE-LIKE SWORD!
ZACK MOSLEY

I, ANNIE, AM A POOR SERVANT—IT IS ONLY THOSE WHOM I BRING WHO CAN HELP THE SAHIB—
O.K.—SO "DADDY" PULLS THROUGH—THAT'S WHAT COUNTS, EH?
5-15-54
YES—IF HE PULLS THROUGH—THIS TIME IT IS A VERY NEAR THING—
"VERY NEAR"? HOW Y'MEAN?
THE SAHIB FELL AMONG EVIL MEN—THE TORTURES—"BRAIN WASHING"—NOT TO GIVE IN IS A GREAT STRAIN, EVEN ON ONE SO STRONG AS HE—AND "DADDY" D NEVER GIVE IN!
